FRANKS BOY'S FATHER ON STAND

LEOPOLD-LOEB LEGAL BATTLE IS UNDER WAY

Parent Of Chicago Youths' Victim Tells Of Young Son's Disappearance And Ransom Letter.

State's Attorney Crowe Reviews Story Of Slaying In Opening Statement--Demands Death Penalty.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—Calmly, but with eyes moistened by tears, Jacob Franks, wealthy father of the 14-year-old victim of Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, recited on the witness stand today the story of his boy's disappearance.

Called by the state as its second witness, after State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in his opening statement, had demanded again the death penalty for the two brilliant 19-year-old college youths, Franks answered in a firm voice, the queries of the prosecutors and identified the small remnants of clothing and other personal possessions found on or about the body.

His testimony was finished when the court recessed for luncheon.

Mrs. Franks Called.

The afternoon session of the Franks trial started promptly at 2 p. m. There were a number of vacant seats in the spectators' section.

Mrs. Jacog Franks, mother of young Robert, victim of Leopoud and Loeb, took the witness stand this afternoon.

Clad in amodish attire of black, the grieved mother told in a broken voice of her son's last day at home, the circumstances of his disappearance and o fthe feverish, almost distracted efforts of herself and husband to regain the custody of their boy.

She sobbed, her voice quavered and her eyes filled with tears as she was handd the pices of the lad's clothing for identification.

Fingering the articles with tremulous hands, and apparently choking back her grief, the mother nodded her affirmation of the identity of the articles.

The morning session was occupied principally by the opening statement of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, whose denunciation of the kidnapers and murderers of young Franks drew sharp objections from Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense.

"It was the most cruel, cowardly, dastardly murder ever committed in the history of American jurisprudence," exclaimed Mr. Crowe

"That is a ridiculous exaggeration," rejoined Mr. Darrow.

Youths Depart Jauntily.

The defendants sat apparently unmoved through Mr. Crowe's oration and left the room almost jauntily when court adjourned for luncheon. They laughed audibly as they started back to their cells.

The kidnaping of 14-year-old Robert Franks by Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, was strictly a commercial proposition, the abductors wrote in their first letter to the father of their victim.

The letter was read today in the opening of the hearing before Chief Justice John R. Caverly to determine the penalty the two college youths shall pay for the death of young Franks, to which for the second time they affirmed today their lawyers' plea of guilty.

Court in the Franks case was called promptly to order at 10 a. m.

"Find seats, everybody," said the clerk. Then he called the defendants into the room.

Leopold and Loeb came into court for the final act in the big criminal drama at 10.03 a. m. Leopold appeared unconcerned. Loeb was pale and an almost startled expression widened his eyes and dropped his jaw as he passed to his chair.

Crowe Tells of Plot.

State's Attorney Robert E Crowe, in a formal opening statement, recited the story of the boys' planning for the "little fellow's murder," from what he said was the inception of the plot in the minds of the two brilliant sons of prominent families here, last fall.

Every detail of the planning and preparation by the young conspirators, was reviewed by the prosecutor.

He told of the perfection of the details for their plot on May 21, this year, and of a careful deliberation afterward, on the question of who should be their victims.

The sons of numerous wealthy families were considered before young Franks was agreed upon.

The defendants were styled "cold, calculating murderers."

Listening to the state recital of the details of the boy's death with apparent equanimity of spirit, the two defendants sat calmly in their chairs behind their counsel.

Frequently one would whisper to the other as various details of their crime were heralded to the court.

Leopold Sits Motionless.

Leopold frequently sat virtually motionless for periods of ten or fifteen minutes during the recital.

Loeb, however, frequently adjusted his stylish bow tie, moistened his lips with his tongue and picked specks on his sleeves.

Jacob Franks, father of the slain boy, sat quietly beside his attorney—chewing gum with apparent determination, but wholly without outward show of feeling.

Nathan Leopold, sr., father of one of the 19-year-old intellectuals, whose fate is at stake, sat within a few feet of his son and next to another son. His brow was creased and deep lines of grief bore evidence of a parent's bowed spirit and heavy heart.

Editor Still Held In Jail

LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 23:—Carl C. Magee, editor of the New Mexico State Tribune, was still in jail today despite the fact that he was pardoned by Governor Hinkle late yesterday on three charges of contempt of court, for which he was sentenced yesterday by District Judge D. J. Leahy to three months imprisonment on three counts.

The charges resulted from editorials in Magee's paper attacking decision of Judge Leahy

Wilson's Death Is Caused By Shock

GRAND ISLAND, Neb, July 23.—The death of Fred G Wilson, Central City manager of the Beatrice Creamery company, in Lake Ericson Tuesday was not from drowning, as at first supposed, but from shock at getting his feet entangled in barbed wire. It is known that he had a weak heart and the fact that no water was found in his lungs is considered conclusive proof that he was not drowned.

FEELS SUCCESS OF PARLEY IS NOW ASSURED

Dawes Plan Certain To Be Given Chance To Solve Europe's Ills, Declares Leading American Financier At London.

BANKERS SAY LOAN GUARANTEES AMPLE

In Present London Impasse, Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg Has Presented Proposal Which May Bring Final Agreement.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 23.—The inter-allied conference will undoubtedly be successful and the Dawes plan will be given its chance to solve Europe's economic ills despite the present differences between bankers and the conference delegates over guarantees for the 40,000,000 pound German loan a leading American financier today told The Associated Press before sailing for home after having for several days been in the closest touch with conference proceedings

This authority, who has followed the Dawes plan since its inception, declared there was no question among bankers regarding the existence of ample guarantees which will insure the comparatively small sum required for the service of the loan.

The problem is, he said, to reduce the potential guarantees to definite forms which will stand a solid basis of credit.

It will be the conference's task during the next few days to put into writing and reach a complete agreement on some such plan on sanctions and defaults as that proposed by American Ambassador Kellogg yesterday, it is stated.

To Serve As Basis.

The American financier was not certain the Kellogg proposal would prove satisfactory to all the allies, but he said it would be a basis for the conference to work on, and from it the final agreement on guarantees would be developed.

Efforts to break the apparently seriously deadlock which has arisen in the conference over the financial guarantees for the 40,000 pounds loan today occupied the entire time of the delegates

In the present impasse, the American ambassador, Frank B. Kellogg, has presented a proposal which is under consideration. It is not concerned with the declaration of the German default, but deals entirely with the manner of application of sanctions to Germany. It purposes that sanctions may not be applied until recommendations for a dafault have been made by the agent-general of reparations and the bond holders' trustees and also by five members of the Dawes committee, who would be called in.

MERICLE DIES IN ACCIDENT

Burlington Switchman Succumbs to Injuries Received When He Falls Under Train In Local Yards.

Ralph Mericle, Burlington brakeman, died at St. Elizabeth hospital at 3:10 Wednesday morning as the result of injuries received Tuesday night when he fell under a train in the west end of the Burlington yards. An arm and both legs were severed and he received other injuries, according to Deputy Sheriff C. A. Hughart, who investigated the accident. Mericle was rushed from the yards to the hospital in Castle, Roper & Matthews' ambulance

Mericle was riding on top of a train on which he was riding bumped another train of several cars below, Hughart said. The injured man was unconscious when the train stopped.

Mericle lived at 746 West B street. No inquest will be held.

A TWIN BROTHER COMES IN HANDY

Victim Of Holdup Is Unable to Identify Men Arrested.

OMAHA, July 23.—(A. P.)—A twin brother today saved Lawrence Kenney, Omaha, and his pal, William Reimers from a murder charge in connection with the death of Lloyd Henry, shot by bandits in a holdup a week ago Monday night.

Following a dramatic scene in County Judge Crawford's court in which Hazel Lewis, the state's witness repudiated her "positive" identification of Kenney and Reamers as two of the murder bandit trio, Deputy County Attorney Gross recommended dismissal of the murder charge against the pair. Judge Crawford assented, but ordered them remanded to the county jail for further investigation in connection with holdups

"Do these men look alike?" counsel for the accused asked Miss Lewis after Keeney's twin brother had been called forward and stood beside Kenney and Reimers.

"As much as if they were twins," she replied.

Vacation Ends In Triple Tragedy

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker and their two year old son, Richard, who were drowned Tuesday when the boat in which they were riding overturned in Stapp's lake near Boulder, Colo. They left last week on a vacation trip to Colorado. The bodies will be returned to Havelock. No funeral arrangements have been made. Mr. Baker was proprietor of the Baker Pharmacy and was prominent in business circles in the shop town.

Is Re-Wed Week After Divorced; Annul Marriage

John W. Shagool married Lovena Shagool just a week after he was granted a divorce in this county, thereby violating the Nebraska statute which says that six months must intervene between divorce and re-marriage, according to a decree filed in District court, which annuls the marriage.

Shagool was divorced in Lancaster county, December 20, 1917, from Mattie Shagool, says the decree.

Then he married Lovena Stutheit, December 27, 1917, in Iowa

Mrs. Shagool's maiden name, is restored.

DEMOCRATS HOLD AN OPEN MEETING

Committee Gathering To Be of Most Important In State History.

Many Aspirants Seeking To Fill Place At Head Of the Ticket.

Thursday's meeting of the democratic state central committee, called to fill the gubernatorial vacancy on the state ticket, complete the party organization, and lay plans for the coming campaign, will be an open session held in the main dining room of the Lincoln hotel, starting at 2 p. m., as announced by Charman T S. Allen.

Owing to the active rivalry of half a dozen candidates for the governorship, with a number of others in the background ready to be called, the committee meeting will be virtually a political convention on a small scale. It will produce more interest and excitement than any state convention held in Nebraska for a number of years, because it will be the first time in nearly two decades that a gathering of party representatives has had the chance to pick a nominee for a major sate office.

Some of the committee members and boosters for various candidates have already arrived in Lincoln. It is anticipated that nearly the whole membership of the committee will be on hand Thursday when the hour arrives for getting down to business.

Whether the committee shall vote by ballot, or by having the members announce their preferences as their names are called, will be the first thing to decide In all likelihood the former method will be followed. The question of allowing votes to be cast by proxy may lead to some difference of opinion, but unless there is an attempt to use proxies by wholesale will this probably be permitted.

Kenneth McDonald of Bridgeport, J. N. Norton of Polk, Dan Stephens of Fremont, John Hopkins of Omaha, and C. M. Skiles of Lincoln are expected to show the most strength when the voting starts. Should a deadlock ensue, there will be a chance for some of those having less initial strength The dark horse list includes G. W. O'Malley of Greeley, F. J. Taylor of St Paul, Trade and Commerce Secretary K. C. Knudson of Genoa, Mayor Jim Dahlman of Omaha and four or five others.

BIG CORN CROP IS IN PROSPECT

Hot Weather and Abundant Moisture of Past Few Weeks Cause Predictions of Unusually Heavy Yield.

PLENTY OF MOISTURE — IN SOIL AT PRESENT

Believe That Only Dry Spell Lasting From Now Until the Middle of September Could Affect Condition.

Bountiful rains and plenty of warm weather during the past two weeks have caused a phenomenal advance in the condition of Nebraska's corn crop and brought it to a stage where there is no longer any doubt of a big yield. Corn has literally been shooting upward and in many fields around Lincoln it is beginning to tassel out. This assures its maturing before the arrival of killing frosts in late September or early October.

The long, cold spring season, with frequent rainfall during the month of May delayed planting of corn, and in some localities it was necessary to replant on account of poor seed having been used. During June and up to the fourth of July, the general aspect of the crop indicated that it was two to three weeks behind in its development, as compared with an average year.

Fears were entertained that the end of the growing season would catch a great deal of the corn in an unripened condition and greatly lessen the quantity and marketable value of the crop. But the favorable combination of abundant moisture and hot weather in the past two weeks has brought it along faster than anyone expected. There is no question that corn has to a large extent made up in rapid growth during tis period a large part of what was lost earlier in the summer.

Means Millions to State.

The marked improvement in maize prospects will make the total yield in Nebraska worth many millions of dollars more than would have been realized if no such improvement had taken place. Nothing but a long drouth period setting in now and lasting until the middle of September could hold back the crop or cut down the yield. A comparatively small amount of rain in August will make the crop sure. There is enough moisture in the ground now to last several weeks, and the corn is large enough now to shade the ground and prevent undue loss of moisture by evaporation.

Some of the finest corn ever seen in the country adjacent to Lincoln is on land belonging to or leased by the state hospital for insane, south-

WILL BROADCAST BRYAN'S SPEECH

Tentative Plans Laid to Radio Addresses at Notification Ceremony.

Tentative plans for broadcasting the addresses which will be made here at the ceremonies when Governor Charles W Bryan is notified of his nomination as candidate for the vice presidency on the democratic ticket, were drafted at an informal meeting held Wednesday noon at the chamber of commerce Besides T. S. Allen, chairman of the democratic central committee in Nebraska, C A Lord, Nebraska member of the notification committee, and a number of radio equipment men were present.

Under the plans discussed the notification will be held in the university stadium, weather permitting, where a large loud speaker will be installed, and connections made with a large transmission outfit to broadcast the speeches, which will be picked up by broadcasting stations at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Hastings

Another conference will be held Thursday afternoon.

BAKER FAMILY DROWNS WHILE ON VACATION

Havelock Druggist, Wife and Child, 2, Lose Lives in Lake Near Boulder, Colo. Tuesday—Parents Die Trying to Rescue Babe.

TRAGEDY OCCURS WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES

Bodies Found When Search is Made Upon Failure of Trio to Return to Resort Following Morning Trip.

BOULDER, Colo., July 23.— Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker, and their son, Richard, two years old, of Havelock, Neb., were drowned in Stapp's lake, 24 miles from here, about noon Tuesday, when the boat in which they were riding overturned and were not found until late Tuesday, several hours, it is believed, after the drowning had occurred. The bodies were brought to Boulder.

Corner Leslie Kelso, today awaited instructions from Havelock, Neb., for sending the bodies of Mr. and Mrs H W Baker and their two-year-old son to their Havelock home.

It is believed the tragedy resulted when the boy fell overboard and that the boat overturned when Mr. and Mrs. Baker attempted to rescue their son

The bodies of the mother and child were found on the beach early yesterday afternoon. The body of the father was found later under the overturned boat Attempts were made to resuscitate the three before th coroner was summoned.

It was learned that the Baker family reached the resort at Stapp's Lake Monday night after having visited a boother of Mrs. Baker at Craig, Colo. Tuesday morning they left their hotel and started for the lake, which is a considerable distance from the hotel. When they did not return at noon search was instituted. W. L. Cox, a garage man, found the bodies.

To Return Bodies.

No word as to the details of the tragedy, other than the news service report, had been received in Havelock Wednesday.

Glen Fordyce and J. H. Harlan, Havelock business men, left at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening for Boulder.

GET $150 LOOT IN ROBBERY AT BOTTLING CO.

Explosives Used To Open Strong Box In Building At Twentieth And N Streets --Bandits Make Escape.

Yeggmen blew the safe at the Coca-Cola Bottling works office, 2020 N street, about 11 p. m. Tuesday, looting the safe of about $150 in cash, and escaped. No one saw the men enter or leave the building, and the neighbors were not awakened by the sound of the blast, which shattered the heavy safe door.

The robbery was not discovered until about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Robert McClanahan, 1301 L street, an employe was the first at the plant, and found the door had been forced.

Entering the building he saw the wrecked safe, and called C D Leonard, manager, who informed the police.

One Man Job.

Staples on the front door were pulled out and the door leading to the office was forced. It is thought possible that the job may have been pulled by a lone safe-cracker. Officers believe that only one man was in the office, while the other probably acted as look-out or waited in the automobile.

Those living in the neighborhood saw no suspicious characters near the building.

Nothing in the office was disturbed, apparently, except the safe. Walter Schroeder and Roy Butterbaugh, finger-print experts, were unable Wednesday morning to discover any satisfactory marks left on the safe or office furniture, they said. Footprints were found, however. The only clue found was a hammer left by the yeggs. The combination to the safe was pounded off and the charge placed in the opening thus made.

The time of the explosion was fixed at about 11 o'clock by Francis Sonyoke, 2045 N street, who said that she heard a report at about that hour. Miss Sonyoke believed that the noise was some fireworks at the high school oval, she said, and thought nothing of it.

Mrs. Albert Smith, 2029 N street, who lives directly across the street, said that although she and her husband were sleeping in a room facing the bottling works with the windows open, they did not hear the explosion.

No Damage to Office.

No indication of any effort to muffle the sound of the blast was observed Wednesday morning. There are no blinds on the windows.

An advertising poster precariously perched at the top of the wrecked safe, was still standing in place Wednesday morning. All of the windows were intact and a picture hanging just above the safe did not appear to have moved.

Two medium sized black boxes were taken from the safe. In one of these were the daily sales slips of the company. The sales slips are of no value to anyone except the firm and if they should be found Manager Leonard would like to have them returned, he said. He has offered a reward for their recovery. No definite estimate of the amount taken could be made, Mr. Leonard said.

The plant was entered several months ago, when a number of sacks of sugar were stolen.

WHEAT PRICES AGAIN SOAR TO RECORD HIGHS

Highest Quotations Of Season On All Deliveries Of Wheat Touched On Chicago Market Shortly Before the Close.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 23—Smashing of high price records began again in the wheat market today after several day's pause. The new soaring of values was accompanied by advices that black rust is menacing the crop in Canada.

Shortly before the close today, all deliveries of wheat had touched the highest price yet this season and showed a jump of about 8 cents from the day's low point, soon after the opening.

RIVER OVERFLOWS FIELDS OF GRAIN

Big Blue Does Much Damage In Southern Gage County.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., July 23.—Flood waters in the Blue river, caused by recent heavy rains north of Gage county, and menacing at Beatrice yesterday, are now passing Wymore and Blue Springs. The river is out of its banks, and over fields and pastures in many places around Holmesville and Blue Springs, and south of Wymore, and hundreds of acres of crops have been damaged to some extent.

The high water mark of a year ago has not been reached by four feet, and it is feit that the crest has been reached here now. The river began to fall slowly Tuesday evening. Water was up to the ties along the Union Pacific railway in many places around Holmesville Tuesday. Three large fields of corn in curves of the river near the Riverside farm and the Union Pacific deport at Blue Springs are standing in eight to ten inches of water, and water backed up by the big hydro-electric dam of the Beatrice Power company, eight miles down the river is flooding pastures and lowlands.

Missing Girl Is Found In Laundry

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 23—Isabelle Richter, 17-year old daughter of Mr and Mrs W. T. Richter of North Bend, who had been missing from her home for ten days, was found working in a Fremont laundry by local police who had been asked to aid in the search for her. It was stated by her parents that she left North Bend on July 11 for the purpose of visiting a Fremont family, but that she failed to reach her destination It was stated that she had last been seen walking toward Fremont.

ANOTHER CUT IN GAS PRICE

Lincoln Filling Stations Now Retailing Gasoline at 15 Cents—Reduced Rate In Effect at Other Places In State.

Following a cut from 17 cents per gallon to 15 cents which the Weiss Oil Co, put into effect Tuesday morning at its station on North Seventeenth street, all the other concerns in Lincoln took the same action Wednesday noon. The Standard, State, Skelly, Corvell, A. B. A. and others still had 17 cents posted as their rate Wednesday morning, but during the noon hour they and others all dropped 2 cents.

The 15-cent rate has also been made effective at Fremont, Central City, Blair and a large number of other places in eastern and central Nebraska. The drop in Lincoln will probably cause it to be established in a good many other places throughout the state

M. B. Atkins of the A. B. A. Oil Co., stated Wednesday afternoon that his firm would begin selling straight run gasoline Thursday morning for 12½ cents a gallon, and high test fluid for 15 cents.

Improvement Work For Remainder of Summer Outlined

Commissioner Cowgill Wednesday announced his public improvement program for the rest of the summer. It is as follows:

Thirteenth street will be widened from O to J street, and the work in the improvement district created at Eleventh and Lake stree will be completed. This will necessitate the cutting away of a jog at the corner, straightening Lake street, and the paving of the street from Eleventh to Sixteenth street.

At the same time that Lake street is being graded the opening of J street from Thirty-first to Thirty-third street will be started

All of the paving and resurfacing for which contracts have been awarded will be carried on along with the other work, as well as a large number of paving and resurfacing districts yet to be contracted.

This "Family Reunion" Different; Brothers Held For Robbing Store Of Relative; Nabbed By A Cousin

Two brothers, Floyd and Jesse M Gillespie, broke into the store of their brother-in-law, Gordon Stryker, at Roca, early Wednesday morning, and were promptly arrested by Stryker's cousin, Harry Yapp, according to Sheriff Claude P Hensel

Sheriff Hensel went to Roca to investigate and brought the two brothers, Floyd 19 and Jesse, 16, to the county jail here.

Stryker, who lives three miles west of Roca and owns a small drug store in the town, had received a tip from Peru, the home of the Gillespie boys, that an attempt would be made to rob his store, officers say he told them Therefore he asked Yapp, a former Lincoln police officer to guard the place for the night

Floyd told the officers that he had no intention of robbing the store, he thought that it would be all right with Gordon He merely intended to take what he needed, go to the Stryker home and sleep in the hay mow, and then settle up with Stryker in the morning

Floyd is said to have removed a pane of glass from the window, reached inside and unlatched the window, and then have stepped inside He was greeted by Yapp, who unburdened the young man of a "suicide pistol" revolver and a flashlight A "suicide pistol," to the officers, is a small and rather useless weapon in case of emergency

During this proceeding, Jesse stood outside, it is said

Stryker will come to Lincoln Thursday morning to confer with the officers and with County Attorney C E Matson

Stryker told the officers that his store had been robbed once before, they said

Last Sunday Stryker went to visit Floyd and found at Floyd's place, a ten acre farm near Peru, about $60 worth of goods which he believes had been taken from his store, according to officers.

Floyd explained this by saying that he had merely taken what he needed and that one of the objects of his trip Wednesday to Roca was to pay Stryker for this He intended to take the matter up in the morning, he said Officers said that about 40 cents was found on him when he was searched.

When the two boys were arrested by Yapp, they were taken to the Stryker farm and held there until Sheriff Hensel and E C Ward deputy sheriff, arrived.

FRANKS BOY'S FATHER ON STAND

LEOPOLD-LOEB LEGAL BATTLE IS UNDER WAY

Parent Of Chicago Youths' Victim Tells Of Young Son's Disappearance And Ransom Letter.

State's Attorney Crowe Reviews Story Of Slaying In Opening Statement--Demands Death Penalty.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—Calmly, but with eyes moistened by tears, Jacob Franks, wealthy father of the 14-year-old victim of Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, recited on the witness stand today the story of his boy's disappearance.

Called by the state as its second witness, after State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in his opening statement, had demanded again the death penalty for the two brilliant 19-year-old college youths, Franks answered in a firm voice, the queries of the prosecutors and identified the small remnants of clothing and other personal possessions found on or about the body.

His testimony was finished when the court recessed for luncheon.

Mrs. Franks Called.

The afternoon session of the Franks trial started promptly at 2 p. m. There were a number of vacant seats in the spectators' section.

Mrs. Jacog Franks, mother of young Robert, victim of Leopoud and Loeb, took the witness stand this afternoon.

Clad in amodish attire of black, the grieved mother told in a broken voice of her son's last day at home, the circumstances of his disappearance and o fthe feverish, almost distracted efforts of herself and husband to regain the custody of their boy.

She sobbed, her voice quavered and her eyes filled with tears as she was handd the pices of the lad's clothing for identification.

Fingering the articles with tremulous hands, and apparently choking back her grief, the mother nodded her affirmation of the identity of the articles.

The morning session was occupied principally by the opening statement of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, whose denunciation of the kidnapers and murderers of young Franks drew sharp objections from Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense.

"It was the most cruel, cowardly, dastardly murder ever committed in the history of American jurisprudence," exclaimed Mr. Crowe.

"That is a ridiculous exaggeration," rejoined Mr. Darrow.

Youths Depart Jauntily.

The defendants sat apparently unmoved through Mr. Crowe's oration and left the room almost jauntily when court adjourned for luncheon. They laughed audibly as they started back to their cells.

The kidnaping of 14-year-old Robert Franks by Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, was strictly a commercial proposition, the abductors wrote in their first letter to the father of their victim.

The letter was read today in the opening of the hearing before Chief Justice John R. Caverly to determine the penalty the two college youths shall pay for the death of young Franks, to which for the second time they affirmed today their lawyers' plea of guilty.

Court in the Franks case was called promptly to order at 10 a. m.

"Find seats, everybody," said the clerk. Then he called the defendants into the room.

Leopold and Loeb came into court for the final act in the big criminal drama at 10:03 a. m. Leopold appeared unconcerned. Loeb was pale and an almost startled expression widened his eyes and dropped his jaw as he passed to his chair.

Crowe Tells of Plot.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, in a formal opening statement, recited the story of the boys' planning for the "little fellow's murder," from what he said was the inception of the plot in the minds of the two brilliant sons of prominent families here, last fall.

Every detail of the planning and preparation by the young conspirators, was reviewed by the prosecutor.

He told of the perfection of the details for their plot on May 21, this year, and of a careful deliberation afterward on the question of who should be their victims.

The sons of numerous wealthy families were considered before young Franks was agreed upon.

The defendants were styled "cold, calculating murderers."

Listening to the state recital of the details of the boy's death with apparent equanimity of spirit, the two defendants sat calmly in their chairs behind their counsel.

Frequently one would whisper to the other as various details of their crime were heralded to the court.

Leopold Sits Motionless.

Leopold frequently sat virtually motionless for periods of ten or fifteen minutes during the recital.

Loeb, however, frequently adjusted his stylish bow tie, moistened his lips with his tongue and picked specks on his sleeves.

Jacob Franks, father of the slain boy, sat quietly beside his attorney—chewing gum with apparent determination, but wholly without outward show of feeling.

Nathan Leopold, sr., father of one of the 19-year-old intellectuals, whose fate is at stake, sat within a few feet of his son and next to another son. His brow was creased and deep lines of grief bore evidence of a parent's bowed spirit and heavy heart.

Editor Still Held In Jail

LAS VEGAS, N. M., July 23:—Carl C. Magee, editor of the New Mexico State Tribune, was still in jail today despite the fact that he was pardoned by Governor Hinkle late yesterday on three charges of contempt of court, for which he was sentenced yesterday by District Judge D. J. Leahy to three months imprisonment on three counts.

The charges resulted from editorials in Magee's paper attacking decision of Judge Leahy.

Wilson's Death Is Caused By Shock

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., July 23.—The death of Fred G. Wilson, Central City manager of the Beatrice Creamery company, in Lake Ericson Tuesday was not from drowning, as at first supposed, but from shock at getting his feet entangled in barbed wire. It is known that he had a weak heart and the fact that no water was found in his lungs is considered conclusive proof that he was not drowned.

FEELS SUCCESS OF PARLEY IS NOW ASSURED

Dawes Plan Certain To Be Given Chance To Solve Europe's Ills, Declares Leading American Financier At London.

BANKERS SAY LOAN GUARANTEES AMPLE

In Present London Impasse, Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg Has Presented Proposal Which May Bring Final Agreement.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, July 23.—The inter-allied conference will undoubtedly be successful and the Dawes plan will be given its chance to solve Europe's economic ills despite the present differences between bankers and the conference delegates over guarantees for the 40,000,000 pound German loan a leading American financier today told The Associated Press before sailing for home after having for several days been in the closest touch with conference proceedings.

This authority, who has followed the Dawes plan since its inception, declared there was no question among bankers regarding the existence of ample guarantees which will insure the comparatively small sum required for the service of the loan.

The problem is, he said, to reduce the potential guarantees to definite forms which will stand a solid basis of credit.

It will be the conference's task during the next few days to put into writing and reach a complete agreement on some such plan on sanctions and defaults as that proposed by American Ambassador Kellogg yesterday, it is stated.

To Serve As Basis.

The American financier was not certain the Kellogg proposal would prove satisfactory to all the allies, but he said it would be a basis for the conference to work on, and from it the final agreement on guarantees would be developed.

Efforts to break the apparently seriously deadlock which has arisen in the conference over the financial guarantees for the 40,000 pounds loan today occupied the entire time of the delegates.

In the present impasse, the American ambassador, Frank B. Kellogg, has presented a proposal which is under consideration. It is not concerned with the declaration of the German default, but deals entirely with the manner of application of sanctions to Germany. It purposes that sanctions may not be applied until recommendations for a dafault have been made by the agent-general of reparations and the bond holders' trustees and also by five members of the Dawes committee, who would be called in.

MERICLE DIES IN ACCIDENT

Burlington Switchman Succumbs to Injuries Received When He Falls Under Train In Local Yards.

Ralph Mericle, Burlington brakeman, died at St. Elizabeth hospital at 3:10 Wednesday morning as the result of injuries received Tuesday night when he fell under a train in the west end of the Burlington yards. An arm and both legs were severed and he received other injuries, according to Deputy Sheriff C. A. Hughart, who investigated the accident. Mericle was rushed from the yards to the hospital in Castle, Roper & Matthews' ambulance.

Mericle was riding on top of a train on which he was riding bumped another train of several cars below, Hughart said. The injured man was unconscious when the train stopped. Mericle lived at 746 West B street. No inquest will be held.

A TWIN BROTHER COMES IN HANDY

Victim Of Holdup Is Unable to Identify Men Arrested.

OMAHA, July 23.—(A. P.)—A twin brother today saved Lawrence Kenney, Omaha, and his pal, William Reimers from a murder charge in connection with the death of Lloyd Henry, shot by bandits in a holdup a week ago Monday night.

Following a dramatic scene in County Judge Crawford's court in which Hazel Lewis, the state's witness repudiated her "positive" identification of Kenney and Reamers as two of the murder bandit trio, Deputy County Attorney Gross recommended dismissal of the murder charge against the pair. Judge Crawford assented, but ordered them remanded to the county jail for further investigation in connection with holdups.

"Do these men look alike?" counsel for the accused asked Miss Lewis after Keeney's twin brother had been called forward and stood beside Kenney and Reimers.

"As much as if they were twins," she replied.

Vacation Ends In Triple Tragedy

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker and their two year old son, Richard, who were drowned Tuesday when the boat in which they were riding overturned in Stapp's lake near Boulder, Colo. They left last week on a vacation trip to Colorado. The bodies will be returned to Havelock. No funeral arrangements have been made. Mr. Baker was proprietor of the Baker Pharmacy and was prominent in business circles in the shop town.

Is Re-Wed Week After Divorced; Annul Marriage

John W. Shagool married Lovena Shagool just a week after he was granted a divorce in this county, thereby violating the Nebraska statute which says that six months must intervene between divorce and re-marriage, according to a decree filed in District court, which annuls the marriage.

Shagool was divorced in Lancaster county, December 20, 1917, from Mattie Shagool, says the decree.

Then he married Lovena Stutheit, December 27, 1917, in Iowa.

Mrs. Shagool's maiden name is restored.

DEMOCRATS HOLD AN OPEN MEETING

Many Aspirants Seeking To Fill Place At Head Of the Ticket.

Thursday's meeting of the democratic state central committee, called to fill the gubernatorial vacancy on the state ticket, complete the party organization, and lay plans for the coming campaign, will be an open session held in the main dining room of the Lincoln hotel, starting at 2 p. m., as announced by Charman T. S. Allen.

Owing to the active rivalry of half a dozen candidates for the governorship, with a number of others in the background ready to be called, the committee meeting will be virtually a political convention on a small scale. It will produce more interest and excitement than any state convention held in Nebraska for a number of years, because it will be the first time in nearly two decades that a gathering of party representatives has had the chance to pick a nominee for a major sate office.

Some of the committee members and boosters for various candidates have already arrived in Lincoln. It is anticipated that nearly the whole membership of the committee will be on hand Thursday when the hour arrives for getting down to business.

Whether the committee shall vote by ballot, or by having the members announce their preferences as their names are called, will be the first thing to decide. In all likelihood the former method will be followed. The question of allowing votes to be cast by proxy may lead to some difference of opinion, but unless there is an attempt to use proxies by wholesale will this probably be permitted.

Kenneth McDonald of Bridgeport, J. N. Norton of Polk, Dan Stephens of Fremont, John Hopkins of Omaha, and C. M. Skiles of Lincoln are expected to show the most strength when the voting starts. Should a deadlock ensue, there will be a chance for some of those having less initial strength. The dark horse list includes G. W. O'Malley of Greeley, F. J. Taylor of St. Paul, Trade and Commerce Secretary K. C. Knudson of Genoa, Mayor Jim Dahlman of Omaha and four or five others.

Mourey Given A Death Sentence

(Associated Press.)

PARIS, July 23—Alphonse Gabriel Mourey today was sentenced to death, having been found guilty without extenuating circumstances on all of the twenty-two counts for which he was on trial, including charges that he participated in the robbery in 1922 of the home of Albert R. Shattuck, New York banker.

Passenger Ship Grounds In Fog

ROCKLAND, Me, July 23—The passenger steamer James T. Morse of the Eastern Steamship Lines, incorporated, which left here early today for Bar Harbor, struck on Crotch island, near the entrance to Stonington harbor, shortly after 8 o'clock in a thick fog. Some passengers were landed in boats. None were in danger.

BIG CORN CROP IS IN PROSPECT

Hot Weather and Abundant Moisture of Past Few Weeks Cause Predictions of Unusually Heavy Yield.

PLENTY OF MOISTURE — IN SOIL AT PRESENT

Believe That Only Dry Spell Lasting From Now Until the Middle of September Could Affect Condition.

Bountiful rains and plenty of warm weather during the past two weeks have caused a phenomenal advance in the condition of Nebraska's corn crop and brought it to a stage where there is no longer any doubt of a big yield. Corn has literally been shooting upward and in many fields around Lincoln it is beginning to tassel out. This assures its maturing before the arrival of killing frosts in late September or early October.

The long, cold spring season, with frequent rainfall during the month of May delayed planting of corn, and in some localities it was necessary to replant on account of poor seed having been used. During June and up to the fourth of July, the general aspect of the crop indicated that it was two to three weeks behind in its development, as compared with an average year.

Fears were entertained that the end of the growing season would catch a great deal of the corn in an unripened condition and greatly lessen the quantity and marketable value of the crop. But the favorable combination of abundant moisture and hot weather in the past two weeks has brought it along faster than anyone expected. There is no question that corn has to a large extent made up in rapid growth during tis period a large part of what was lost earlier in the summer.

Means Millions to State.

The marked improvement in maize prospects will make the total yield in Nebraska worth many millions of dollars more than would have been realized if no such improvement had taken place. Nothing but a long drouth period setting in now and lasting until the middle of September could hold back the crop or cut down the yield. A comparatively small amount of rain in August will make the crop sure. There is enough moisture in the ground now to last several weeks, and the corn is large enough now to shade the ground and prevent undue loss of moisture by evaporation.

Some of the finest corn ever seen in the country adjacent to Lincoln is on land belonging to or leased by the state hospital for insane, south-

WILL BROADCAST BRYAN'S SPEECH

Tentative Plans Laid to Radio Addresses at Notification Ceremony.

Tentative plans for broadcasting the addresses which will be made here at the ceremonies when Governor Charles W. Bryan is notified of his nomination as candidate for the vice presidency on the democratic ticket, were drafted at an informal meeting held Wednesday noon at the chamber of commerce. Besides T. S. Allen, chairman of the democratic central committee in Nebraska, C. A. Lord, Nebraska member of the notification committee, and a number of radio equipment men were present.

Under the plans discussed the notification will be held in the university stadium, weather permitting, where a large loud speaker will be installed, and connections made with a large transmission outfit to broadcast the speeches, which will be picked up by broadcasting stations at Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Hastings.

Another conference will be held Thursday afternoon.

BAKER FAMILY DROWNS WHILE ON VACATION

TRAGEDY OCCURS WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES

Bodies Found When Search is Made Upon Failure of Trio to Return to Resort Following Morning Trip.

BOULDER, Colo., July 23.— Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Baker, and their son, Richard, two years old, of Havelock, Neb., were drowned in Stapp's lake, 24 miles from here, about noon Tuesday, when the boat in which they were riding overturned and were not found until late Tuesday, several hours, it is believed, after the drowning had occurred. The bodies were brought to Boulder.

Corner Leslie Kelso, today awaited instructions from Havelock, Neb., for sending the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Baker and their two-year-old son to their Havelock home.

It is believed the tragedy resulted when the boy fell overboard and that the boat overturned when Mr. and Mrs. Baker attempted to rescue their son.

The bodies of the mother and child were found on the beach early yesterday afternoon. The body of the father was found later under the overturned boat. Attempts were made to resuscitate the three before th coroner was summoned.

It was learned that the Baker family reached the resort at Stapp's Lake Monday night after having visited a boother of Mrs. Baker at Craig, Colo. Tuesday morning they left their hotel and started for the lake, which is a considerable distance from the hotel. When they did not return at noon search was instituted. W. L. Cox, a garage man, found the bodies.

To Return Bodies.

No word as to the details of the tragedy, other than the news service report, had been received in Havelock Wednesday.

Glen Fordyce and J. H. Harlan, Havelock business men, left at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening for Boulder.

COZAD MOTORIST SERIOUSLY HURT

Car Crashes Into Passenger Bus East Of Havelock Tuesday Afternoon.

Driver and Others Are Slightly Injured When Collision Occurs.

William Rickel, of Cozad, Neb., was seriously injured Tuesday afternoon when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a passenger bus five miles east of Havelock on the D. L. D. highway.

Rickel was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. His condition Wednesday morning was reported by Dr. D. L. Hilton to be somewhat improved. He sustained internal injuries in the chest, Dr. Hilton stated.

The automobile in which Rickel was riding was driven by a man giving the name of D. E. Tompkins, also of Cozad. With them were two women whose names were not learned. They were uninjured. Tompkins sustained minor injuries about the face and head.

According to the state automobile registration bureau the automobile carrying the license found on the Flint car, driven by Tompkins, was practically demolished, it was said.

According to the story told by Tompkins the collision occured just as they were passing a county truck. The passenger bus turned out to go around the truck and the two cars collided head on.

The driver of the bus and one passenger sustained slight injuries it is reported. Their names were not learned

Dill Plans To Assist Davis

SPOKANE, Wash., July 23—United States Senator C. C. Dill, democrat, Washington, announced today his intention to take an active part in the campaign for the election of John W. Davis as president on the democratic ticket.

"You can't keep a fish out of water, can you?" he was quoted as replying to a question as to whether he expected to participate in the campaign.

GET $150 LOOT IN ROBBERY AT BOTTLING CO.

Explosives Used To Open Strong Box In Building At Twentieth And N Streets --Bandits Make Escape.

Yeggmen blew the safe at the Coca-Cola Bottling works office, 2020 N street, about 11 p. m. Tuesday, looting the safe of about $150 in cash, and escaped. No one saw the men enter or leave the building, and the neighbors were not awakened by the sound of the blast, which shattered the heavy safe door.

The robbery was not discovered until about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. Robert McClanahan, 1301 L street, an employe was the first at the plant, and found the door had been forced.

Entering the building he saw the wrecked safe, and called C. D. Leonard, manager, who informed the police.

One Man Job.

Staples on the front door were pulled out and the door leading to the ofice was forcedfl It is thought possible that the job may have been pulled y a lone safe-cracker. Officers believe that only one man was in the ofice, while the other probabyi acted as look-out or waited in the automobile.

Those living in the neighborhood saw no suspicious characters near the building.

Nothing in the office was disturbed, apparently, except the safe. Walter Schroeder and Roy Butterbaugh, finger-print experts, were unable Wednesday morning to discover any satisfactory marks left on the safe or office furniture, they said. Footprints were found, however. The only clue found was a hammer left by the yeggs. The combination to the safe was pounded off and the charge placed in the opening thus made.

The time of the explosion was fixed at about 11 o'clock by Francis Sonyoke, 2045 N street, who said that she heard a report at about that hour. Miss Sonyoke believed that the noise was some fireworks at the high school oval, she said, and thought nothing of it.

Mrs. Albert Smith, 2039 N street, who lives directly across the street, said that although she and her husband were sleeping in a room facing the bottling works with the windows open, they did not hear the explosion.

No Damage to Office.

No indication of any effort to muffle the sound of the blast was observed Wednesday morning. There are no blinds on the windows.

An advertising poster precariously perched at the top of the wrecked safe, was still standing in place Wednesday morning. All of the windows were intact and a picture hanging just above the safe did not appear to have moved.

Two medium sized black boxes were taken from the safe. In one of these were the daily sales slips of the company. The sales slips are of no value to anyone except thefirm and if they should be found Manager Leonard would like to have them returned, he said. He has offered a reward for their recovery. No definite estimate of the amount taken could be made, Mr. Leonard said.

The plant was entered several months ago, when a number of sacks of sugar were stolen.

WHEAT PRICES AGAIN SOAR TO RECORD HIGHS

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 23.—Smashing of high price records began again in the wheat market today after several day's pause. The new soaring of values was accompanied by advices that black rust is menacing the crop in Canada.

Shortly before the close today, all deliveries of wheat had touched the highest price yet this season and showed a jump of about 8 cents from the day's low point, soon after the opening.

RIVER OVERFLOWS FIELDS OF GRAIN

Big Blue Does Much Damage In Southern Gage County.

(Special to The Star.)

WYMORE, Neb., July 23.—Flood waters in the Blue river, caused by recent heavy rains north of Gage county, and menacing at Beatrice yesterday, are now passing Wymore and Blue Springs. The river is out of its banks, and over fields and pastures in many places around Holmesville and Blue Springs, and south of Wymore, and hundreds of acres of crops have been damaged to some extent.

The high water mark of a year ago has not been reached by four feet, and it is felt that the crest has been reached here now. The river began to fall slowly Tuesday evening. Water was up to the ties along the Union Pacific railway in many places around Holmesville Tuesday. Three large fields of corn in curves of the river near the Riverside farm and the Union Pacific deport at Blue Springs are standing in eight to ten inches of water, and water backed up by the big hydro-electric dam of the Beatrice Power company, eight miles down the river is flooding pastures and lowlands.

Missing Girl Is Found In Laundry

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 23—Isabelle Richter, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Richter of North Bend, who had been missing from her home for ten days, was found working in a Fremont laundry by local police who had been asked to aid in the search for her. It was stated by her parents that she left North Bend on July 11 for the purpose of visiting a Fremont family, but that she failed to reach her destination. It was stated that she had last been seen walking toward Fremont.

ANOTHER CUT IN GAS PRICE

Lincoln Filling Stations Now Retailing Gasoline at 15 Cents—Reduced Rate In Effect at Other Places In State.

Following a cut from 17 cents per gallon to 15 cents which the Weiss Oil Co., put into effect Tuesday morning at its station on North Seventeenth street, all the other concerns in Lincoln took the same action Wednesday noon. The Standard, State, Skelly, Coryell, A. B. A., and others still had 17 cents posted as their rate Wednesday morning, but during the noon hour they and others all dropped 2 cents.

The 15-cent rate has also been made effective at Fremont, Central City, Blair and a large number of other places in eastern and central Nebraska. The drop in Lincoln will probably cause it to be established in a good many other places throughout the state.

M. B. Atkins of the A. B. A. Oil Co., stated Wednesday afternoon that his firm would begin selling straight run gasoline Thursday morning for 12½ cents a gallon, and high test fluid for 15 cents.

Improvement Work For Remainder of Summer Outlined

Commissioner Cowgill Wednesday announced his public improvement program for the rest of the summer. It is as follows:

Thirteenth street will be widened from O to J street, and the work in the improvement district created at Eleventh and Lake stree will be completed. This will necessitate the cutting away of a jog at the corner, straightening Lake street, and the paving of the street from Eleventh to Sixteenth street.

At the same time that Lake street is being graded the opening of J street from Thirty-first to Thirty-third street will be started.

All of the paving and resurfacing for which contracts have been awarded will be carried on along with the other work, as well as a large number of paving and resurfacing districts yet to be contracted.

This "Family Reunion" Different; Brothers Held For Robbing Store Of Relative; Nabbed By A Cousin

Two brothers, Floyd and Jesse M. Gillespie, broke into the store of their brother-in-law, Gordon Stryker, at Roca, early Wednesday morning, and were promptly arrested by Stryker's cousin, Harry Yapp, according to Sheriff Claude P. Hensel.

Sheriff Hensel went to Roca to investigate and brought the two brothers, Floyd, 19, and Jesse, 16, to the county jail here.

Stryker, who lives three miles west of Roca and owns a small drug store in the town, had received a tip from Peru, the home of the Gillespie boys, that an attempt would be made to rob his store, officers say he told them. Therefore he asked Yapp, a former Lincoln police officer, to guard the place for the night.

Floyd told the officers that he had no intention of robbing the store, he thought that it would be all right with Gordon." He merely intended to take what he needed; go to the Stryker home and sleep in the hay mow, and then settle up with Stryker in the morning.

Floyd is said to have removed a pane of glass from the window, reached inside and unlatched the window, and then have stepped inside. He was greeted by Yapp, who unburdened the young man of a "suicide pistol" revolver and a flashlight. A "suicide pistol," to the officers, is a small and rather useless weapon in case of emergency.

During this proceeding, Jesse stood outside, it is said.

Stryker will come to Lincoln Thursday morning to confer with the officers and with County Attorney C. E. Matson.

Stryker told the officers that his store had been robbed once before, they said.

Last Sunday Stryker went to visit Floyd and found at Floyd's place, a ten acre farm near Peru, about $60 worth of goods which he believes had been taken from his store, according to officers.

Floyd explained this by saying that he had merely taken what he needed and that one of the objects of his trip Wednesday to Roca was to pay Stryker for this. He intended to take the matter up in the morning, he said. Officers said that about 40 cents was found on him when he was searched.

When the two boys were arrested by Yapp, they were taken to the Stryker farm and held there until Sheriff Hensel and E. C. Ward deputy sheriff, arrived.

ELEANORE FOGG BRIDE OF DR. ROY H. WHITHAM.

A small but particularly lovely mid summer wedding took place this afternoon at the home of Prof and Mrs. Miller Moore Fogg, 1540 South Twenty-first street, when their only daughter, Eleanore, became the bride of Dr. Roy Herbert Whitham of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Whitham of Fairfield, Neb. The guests were the members of the family and a very few intimate mate friends. Rev. M. A. Bullock of the Vine Congregational church was the officiating clergyman for the ceremony which was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock.

The bride had chosen a green and white color motif which was most effectively carried out in the decorations and appointments. In one corner of the living room trailing vines covered the wall and on either side stood pedestal baskets of large white hydrangea which were placed to form a wedding bower Soft feathery asparagus fern covered the piano and throughout the rooms were baskets and bowls of white hydrangea and white petunias.

Preceding the ceremony, Doris Cole Clapp sang "O Promise Me," by de Koven and "Possession" by Clough-Leighter and as she started the second verse of "Possession" she left her place in the upstairs hall and came down the long stairway reaching the living room as she finished the song. The bride and her father followed her down the stairway as Dr. J. M. Mayhew played the Lohengrin wedding march and the groom from his place in the living room advanced to meet the bride at the living room entrance. During the ceremony, Dr. Mayhew played bits of nuptial music and at the close the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The bride's gown was fashioned from the heavy brocaded satin which had made her mother's wedding gown, now a beautiful old ivory. It was in the empire style and Duchess lace, a family heirloom, fell in a cascade down one side, finished the round neck and made the suggestion of tiny sleeves. Her veil of tulle held in place with a band of orange blossoms was trimmed with two rosettes—one at either side of the head—and the long ends were looped back to the high waist line of the empire gown forming a double train of tulle which fell in soft folds from the frill of tulle across the back of the head. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses.

Mrs. Clapp wore a gown of green georgette beaded in crystal.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Prof. and Mrs. Fogg received with the bride and groom. Mrs. Fogg wore a sleeveless gown of flesh crepe with trimmings of silver.

Ices, cakes and coffee were served in the dining room. Mrs. J. M. Mayhew presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Warren A. Seavey cut the ices. They were assisted in serving by Helen Cook, Mary Guthrie and Carolyn Reed. A large white wedding cake decorated with tiny white roses and green leaves graced the center of the table and at either end were old-fashioned candlesticks in brass tied with tulle bows and holding white tapers.

Among the guests were Mrs. Carl Brodrick, sister of the groom, and Mr. Brodrick of Fairfield.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitham left this afternoon for a trip to Colorado but will return to Lincoln before leaving for Estn where Dr. Whitham goes to take up the work of his surgical interneship in the Massachusetts General hospital which was awarded him following his graduation in June from the Harvard Medical school.

The bride was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1920 with Phi Beta Kappa honors. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Since 1921 she has held the position of director of dramatics of the Arsenal Technical high school of Indianapolis.

Dr. Whitham was also a member of the class of 1920 and at the time of his graduation received both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honors. He is a member of eBta Theta Pi fraternity.

FEATHER-DICKERSON WEDDING AT HOME.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Feather to S. Waldraf Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Dickerson of Lincoln, took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Feather, 2100 Calvert street.

Rev. Jack Leonard performed the ceremony in the presence of 100 guests. Cosmos and sweetpeas in pink and white against a background of ferns formed a bower in the living room before which the members of the wedding party stood during the reading of the marriage lines. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Gladys Kurth and Mrs. Eldon Noble sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride's only attendant was Miss Cleo Ashley, who wore a frock of blue georgette with cream lace and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Two little girls, Lois and Maxine Noble, wearing dainty frocks of white organdie trimmed in pink, walked ahead of the bride and carried baskets of mid summer blossoms in pink. Edward Mockett served as best man.

The bride's gown was of honeydew georgette and white lace and she wore a veil of tulle trimmed in lilies-of-the-valley and held in place with a band of rhinestones.

An informal reception followed the ceremony during which the guests were received by the bride and groom and their parents. Refreshments of ices and cakes were served by Misses Dorothy Feather, Helen Turner, Lorene Jennings and Gladys Kurth. Mrs. Leslie Thompson received the guests and assisting were Mrs. Henry Steffensmyer and Mrs. C. L. Woods. Miss Marian Hills presided at the punch bowl and assisting in the gift room were Mrs. John Porter and Miss Alma Ashley. Miss Jessie Morris had charge of the guest book.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Long of Firth, Mrs. Clara Waybright of Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Joe David of Darlington, Mo.

The bride and groom left last evening for a wedding trip to Colorado and after their return will be at home in Lincoln. The bride's going away frock was of faun colored crepe with hat to match.

MOTORISTS STOP FOR VISIT IN LINCOLN.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Alloway, their son and Dr. Alloway's mother of Champaign, Ill., were the guests for a short visit last week of Dr. O. Olson on their return from a tour of Yellowstone Park. Dr. Alloway and Dr. Olson spent two years together while in service during the world war and the little visit afforded an interesting union. Saturday evening a steak fry was held at Antelope park for the visitors and included in the group in addition to the guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Olson and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McGinley and daughter, Dorothy, their house guest, Mrs. W. J. McGinley and daughter, Dorothy, their house guest, Mrs. Frank Muraine and daughter Margaret Ann of Cherokee, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. McGinley. The travelers left Sunday for Champaign.

WOMEN OF EASTRIDGE FORM ORGANIZATION.

The women of Eastridge, Lincoln's new Country club, met at the club house, now in the process of construction, at 9 o'clock this morning to perfect an organization and to make plans for golf, bridge and the many social affairs which will be a feature of the club life. Mrs. W. E. Hardy was elected chairman of golf and Mrs. D. G. Griffiths was made chairman of bridge. Mrs. W. A. Gray was elected secretary. Fifty women attended the meeting and following the business session were taken on an inspection tour of the club house which will be completed within the next few weeks. Tuesday was chosen as ladies' day at Eastridge when the plan of golf and bridge tournaments with a luncheon at 1 o'clock will be followed. Royal Johnson, one of the directors, gave a short talk in which he told of the club's plans.

Mrs. E. L. Marty served as temporary secretary.

MANY GUESTS ATTEND WEDNESDAY CLUB DAY.

One hundred women had luncheon at the Country club today which is the usual Wednesday ladies' day. Bridge and golf were played in the morning and a number of groups remained for bridge during the afternoon. The largest affair was a Dutch treat luncheon which was arranged by a group of friends of Mrs. Guy Reed of Wilmette, Ill., in her honor. Mrs. F. M. Hall had a table of five for Miss Helen Canine of Crawfordsville, Ind., and following the luncheon the guests spent the afternoon at the home of the hostess.

ADA LAWSON BRIDE OF THOMAS HORNE.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Lawson, 2741 A street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Ada Loree, to Thomas Harmon Horne of Goodland, Kas., which took place Tuesday at Marysville. The bride was graduated from the University of Nebraska with the class of 1922 and is a member of Chi Omega sorority and Valkyrie. Mr. Horne is in business in Goodland and they will make their home there.

INFORMAL CLUB DINNER FOR MR. AND MRS. CLARK.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Stewart entertained informally at dinner last evening at the Country club in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark of San Jose, Cal. Garden flowers graced the center of the dinner table where covers were laid for fourteen. The after dinner hours wre spent visiting on the porch.

TO JOIN FAMILY ON TRIP IN THE EAST

Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond and her granddaughter, Virginia, left today for New York where they will meet Mrs. Raymond's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raymond and daughter, Jean, of Panama and with them will motor through the east, particularly the New England states. They will return to Lincoln the early part of September and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond will spend several months here before returning to Panama.

Personals.

N. C. Rogers, who underwent a serious operation last Saturday at the Lincoln Sanitarium is doing very well and an early recovery is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Brown and daughter, Marian, have returned from a ten days' trip during which they visited Indianapolis and Chicago where they were the guests of Luther Morrison and also stopped in Galesburg, Ill., Mrs. Brown's old home for a short sojourn.

Dr. and Mrs. O. Olson and son, Kenneth, left Monday morning for a motor trip to Colorado where they will spend ten days motoring to various places of interest there.

Mrs. J. H. Mears and Miss Belle Sigowney are leaving today to visit their sister, Mrs. M. De Huckins in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meeker are returning to Los Angeles Thursday after a six week's visit with their daughter, Mrs. Richard Rogers. Mrs. Rogers with Dick, jr., and Eloise will accompany them and Mr. Rogers will join them in California later in the summer.

ELEANORE FOGG BRIDE OF DR. ROY H. WHITHAM.

A small but particularly lovely mid summer wedding took place this afternoon at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Miller Moore Fogg, 1540 South Twenty-first street, when their only daughter, Eleanore, became the bride of Dr. Roy Herbert Whitham of Boston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Whitnam of Fairfield, Neb. The guests were the members of the family and a very few intimate mate friends. Rev. M. A. Bullock of the Vine Congregational church was the officiating clergyman for the ceremony which was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock.

The bride had chosen a green and white color motif which was most effectively carried out in the decorations and appointments. In one corner of the living room trailing vines covered the wall and on either side stood pedestal baskets of large white hydrangea which were placed to form a wedding bower. Soft feathery asparagus fern covered the piano and throughout the rooms were baskets and bowls of white hydrangea and white petunias.

Preceding the ceremony, Doris Cole Clapp sang "O Promise Me," by de Koven and "Possession" by Clough-Leighter and as she started the second verse of "Possession" she left her place in the upstairs hall and came down the long stairway reaching the living room as she finished the song. The bride and her father followed her down the stairway as Dr. J. M. Mayhew played the Lohengrin wedding march and the groom from his place in the living room advanced to meet the bride at the living room entrance. During the ceremony, Dr. Mayhew played bits of nuptial music and at the close the Mendelssohn wedding march.

The bride's gown was fashioned from the heavy brocaded satin which had made her mother's wedding gown, now a beautiful old ivory. It was in the empire style and Duchess lace, a family heirloom, fell in a cascade down one side, finished the round neck and made the suggestion of tiny sleeves. Her veil of tulle held in place with a band of orange blossoms was trimmed with two rosettes—one at either side of the head—and the long ends were looped back to the high waist line of the empire gown forming a double train of tulle which fell in soft folds from the frill of tulle across the back of the head. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses.

Mrs. Clapp wore a gown of green georgette beaded in crystal.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Prof. and Mrs. Fogg received with the bride and groom. Mrs. Fogg wore a sleeveless gown of flesh crepe with trimmings of silver.

Ices, cakes and coffee were served in the dining room. Mrs. J. M. Mayhew presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Warren A. Seavey cut the ices. They were assisted in serving by Helen Cook, Mary Guthrie and Carolyn Reed. A large white wedding cake decorated with tiny white roses and green leaves graced the center of the table and at either end were old-fashioned candlesticks in brass tied with tulle bows and holding white tapers.

Among the guests were Mrs. Carl Brodrick, sister of the groom, and Mr. Brodrick of Fairfield.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitham left this afternoon for a trip to Colorado but will return to Lincoln befre leaving fr Bstn where Dr. Whitham goes to take up the work of his surgical interneship in the Massachusetts General hospital which was awarded him following his graduation in June from the Harvard Medical school.

The bride was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1920 with Phi Beta Kappa honors. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Since 1921 she has held the position of director of dramatics of the Arsenal Technical high school of Indianapolis.

Dr. Whitham was also a member of the class of 1920 and at the time of his graduation received both Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi honors. He is a member of eBta Theta Pi fraternity.

NORTON STRONG FOR DEMO TICKET

Pledges Self to Carry Out Bryan Policies If Chosen To Make Race

Polk Man Ready to Work For Principles Of True Democracy.

J. N. Norton of Polk, whose name has been prominently mentioned for the democratic nomination for governor, has issued a statement pledging his support to the democratic ticket, both national and state, and pledging himself especially, if selected to make the race for governor, to carry out the party platform and the policies inaugurated by Governor Bryan

If someone else is chosen to lead the ticket, Mr. Norton says, he will give the candidate his personal support.

The Norton statement was mailed from Illinois, where he is making a series of chautauqua addresses. It reads as follows:

Has Confidence in State Committee.

"Being busily engaged in fulfilling lecture engagements in Illinois, I have been out of touch with my friends relative to the political situation in Nebraska now developing in the selection of a democratic candidate for governor. I have access to only meager newspaper reports. An article under the headline "Noford form Norton" which appeared recently in a Nebraska daily newspaper caused me to conceive that possibly my continued silence might be construed as a lack of interest and gratitude.

"I greatly appreciate the unselfish efforts now being made by my friends in my behalf and I feel it my duty to state frankly to the democrats of Nebraska what my position will be during the coming campaign, whether I am their candidate for governor or not. I have utmost confidence in the ability and sincerity of the men and women who comprise the democratic state central committee. I know that they are going to select as the candidate for governor that one whom they conceive can best make the fight now and who they know will wholeheartedly carry out the party platform and continue the policies of Governor Bryan, if elected.

Praises Davis and Bryan.

"Present conditions promise success for the democrat party this year. With an outstanding man like Mr. Davis whose exceptional ability and unusual progressive democracy and constructive refor mare becoming recognized as the candidate for president: with Governor Bryan a man who is recognized everywhere as a great leader and who is undoubtedly the greatest governor that Nebraska ever had, as the candidate for vice president, with a democratic ticket in Nebraska composed of persons of standing and ability; with platforms both state and national that ring true and promise progress and reform; with a successful democratic administration in Nebraska and with inefficient republican administration in the nation, the democratic party stands a splendid chance to win, but, to win as Mr. Davis says 'There must be on compromise with reaction.'

"The republican party cannot escape responsibility for its failure to enact any constructive legislation. With no foreign policy and an indefinite domestic policy, with its short-sighted handling of the agricultural situation, the republican party deserves defeat. Should the republican party now claim credit for the present increase in farm commodity prices, let them explain why they delayed so long and brought it on during a political campaign after a large per cent of the American farmers have been forced into bankruptcy and financially ruined beyond recovery.

Stands On Party Platforms.

"I have no personal platform. My past record in four different sessions of the legislature and as a member of the constitutional convention ought to be sufficient evidence of my attitude on public questions. I believe that the democratic platform adopted this year are good enough for all progressives to stand upon. Were I to become a candidate for governor I would make my fight along the lines of progressivev democracy, and should I be elected I would endeavor to conduct an administration in keeping therewith which naturally involves a continuation of the policies of Governor Bryan and the fulfillments of the promises made in the democratic platform.

"Should the committee as a result of its deliberations decide in my behalf, I would accept the honor with gratitude but with a full realization of the responsibilities involved. I would discontinue my present lecture tour and would return to Nebraska to take up the campaign in order to make the best fight of which I am capable. Should the choice fall to another I shall gladly support that one. In either event I shall deem it a pleasure and a privilege to assist in the campaign and to advocate the election of the democratic tickets, both state and national, and likewise to plead for the principles of true democracy in order that the cause of humanity may be served.

"Of course we are going to insist on the death penalty at every appropriate opportunity," Mr. Crowe told newspaper men during a brief recess.

Tells of Evidence.

At one point, the state's attorney alluded to evidence he would ask to "present to the court in private."

"The nature of the evidence in question," he said, "as will be seen and doubtless appreciated by the court, is such that it would be seen and doubtless appreciated by the court, is such that it would be improper to reveal it in open court."

He made no allusion to the subject matter of such evidence.

Coming to a dramatic recital of the first show of weakness by Loeb, during his first questioning by State's Attorney Crowe, the prosecutor raised his voice and paced nervously before the bench. He told of Loeb's excited cry for a glass of water after he was told that his companion had revealed their secret.

"My God!" the youth cried. He then offered to tell the whole story."

The same strategy applied later to Leopold, Mr. Crowe said produced a like reaction.

"Each accused the other of being the actual murderer, and sought to save his own neck," the prosecutor shouted.

"In the name of the people of the state of Illinois and of the parenthood and childhood of the state, we demand the death penalty for both of these cold blooded and vicious murderers," said Mr. Crowe, in concluding his statement.

Darrow Opens Attack.

Clarence Darrow, 67-year-old veteran of the Chicago bar, the chief defense counsel, immediately attacked the Crowe statement.

"To describe the crime as the most atrocious and the most everything else in history," Darrow said, "is to draw upon the imagination of the state's attorneys."

Crowe objected to the tenor of Darrow's remarks and demanded a ruling from the court on whether it was time "for statements or concluding arguments."

Darrow responded that Crowe had "sought to stir up feeling and passion" in his talk.

The court ruled that Darrow should confine himself to objections and an opening statement.

Edwin M. Gresham, an uncle of the Franks boy, was the first witness called by the state. He told of identifying the body of his nephew.

Jacob Franks Called.

Jacob Franks, wealthy father of the slain boy, was the next witness.

Ask Mercy of Court.

The sons of two of Chicago's oldest and wealthiest families, Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, went on the "mercy of the court" today in a case scarcely paralleled in any jurisprudence.

The big question was whether all their cards had been laid on the table or whether their attorney, Clarence Darrow, famous fighter in notable criminal cases, held something back when on Monday, he stunned even the prosecution by having his clients plead guilty to kidnaping and murdering 14-year-old Robert Franks, lad from their own wealthy circle, himself but a few years younger than the slayers.

Darrow had told the court that the families of the boys did not want them set free, saying in effect that the parents recognized that the youths should suffer the penalty. Somehow that they hope to save them from the gallows, was evident by their request for permission to present evidence on their "mental responsibility."

By this action he took the case out of the possibility of a jury trial and put the responsibility on one man, Chief Justice Caverly of the Cook County Criminal court.

Crowe Is Prepared.

Robert E. rowe, state's attorney, who claims a record for his work in law enforcement, and especially for speedy trial and punishment for killings, has prepared so thoroughly for further moves that Darrow may make, that he expects to occupy about two weeks in attemping to prove that the two university men, with their remarkable scholarship records, were sane and that both should hang.

On the mental history of the boys, as determined by the examinations of alienists, the defense pins its hopes, said Dr. James Whitney Hall, head of the corps of mental experts. He outlined the points expected to be brought out in the testimony of the psychiarrists.

It was Richard Loeb who struck the blow with the tape-wrapped chisel that killed Franks; his was the "master mind," and Nathan Leopold, the linguist and ornithology authority, was his tool, the analysis showed, according to Dr. Hall. Leopold is a victim of autoism—a type which centers and defies itself, while Loeb is a case of ner-emotional psychosis.

Predict Breakdown.

If they are sent to the penitentiary, Leopold will suffer a complete mental breakdown within five years, gercrTkaP ehg, ETAOIN OIN Nae and Loeb, although holding out longer, will eventually succumb, the alienists will testify.

The courtroom of John R. Caverly, chief justice of the criminal court of Cook county, was the center of much interest in Chicago today. There it was that Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, scions of two of the city's wealthiest families, faced the bar with the plea for mercy upon which are based their hopes of escaping the hangsman's noose.

But long before they came into court, the big granite cube which houses the community's trial courts, prosecutor's office, grand jury rooms and other quarters of the machinery by which justice is dispensed in connection with crime, was the mecca of hundreds.

Only a fraction of these could gain place in the courtroom and only those who had business with the courts could pass even the outer doors of the building, but scores of curious jammed the sidewalk waiting to see what or whom they might glimpse.

Crowe Addresses Court.

Mr. Crowe in his opening statement, described the "one week alibi," which the murders concocted. It included a purported trip to study a species of gull and a "joy ride," with whisky, gin and "pick up" girls as accompaniments.

Next was related the tracing of the spectacles to Leopold, how he had acknowledged the close resemblance of the glasses found at the culvert to those he had worn. Finally he had acknowledged their probable ownership and tried to explain their "loss."

"He purposely tripped to demonstrate that the spectacles would fall from his pocket," said Mr. Crowe. "But the glasses remained in the pocket of the coat. Finally he was asked to put the coat on the floor, pick it up by the tails, and the glasses fell out.

"The evidence will show that the glasses were lost just that way. Leopold washed the blood from his hands, asked Dick Loeb to pass him his coat and in the darkness Loeb picked it up by the tails and the glasses slipped out."

Mr. Crowe's recital of the investigation went into details of the treatment of the boys, including how the parents and other members of their families were allowed to talk with Leopold and Loeb, send them fresh clothing and toilet accessories and pay for meals.

Praises Reporters.

"We learned from alert and intelligent reporters of the Chicago Daily News that Leopold had a portable Underwood typewriter that had been used in preparing university work with four other students," said Mr. Crowe.

He went on to describe Leopold's attempt to fasten ownership on Leon Medill, II, a fellow student, then in Europe.

The state's attorney told how Sven Englund, Leopold's family chauffeur, shattered the alibi by revealing that the automobile supposed to have been used on the "joy ride" was in the Leopold garage all the time.

Then Mr. Crowe told of Dick Loeb's breakdown.

"He asked me why he was being held," said Mr. Crowe. "I told him it was because the state's attorney was fastening a web around Leopold and when that was done, Loeb would be in the case because he had said he was with Leopold throughout May 21.

Loeb Breaks Down.

"Loeb was told what circumstances were known and he exclaimed:

"'My God, give me a glass of water.'

"He was given the water and then said: 'Now, I'll tell you the absolute truth.'

"Then Leopold was informed that Dick was talking.

"'My God, no,' he ejaculated, 'Dick Loeb will stick until hell freezes over.'

"But he was convinced and started his story.

"Each accused the other of being the actual murderer and sought to save his own neck."

In bitter terms, the state's attorney denounced the defendants' efforts to fasten suspicion on others.

"To show the abandoned and malignant heart in the body of Dick Loeb, note, please, your honor, that he told newspaper reporters he knew Robert Franks and added:

"'If any one was going to kidnap any one, he is just the cocky kind of a kid one would pick.'

"And even then the boy was cold in death.

Demands Death Penalty.

"And in the name of fatherhood and motherhood and childhood of the state, we demand the death penalty for both these cold blooded murderers."

Then Mr. Darrow arose.

"Cold blooded and vicious' are terms in the litany of all state's attorneys and nothing else," he said. "The state's attorney knows that this was not the most atrocious crime ever committed in this country."

Mr. Crowe was up, objecting that it was not time to argue, but to make a statement only.

Mr. Darrow agreed with the court that he should not go beyond objections and his opening statement at this stage.

"I am outraged, your honor, that the state's attorney should have started to stir fresh anger and hatred in this community," said Mr. Darrow. "We object that all the evidence which the state offers is incompetent and meant only for an appeal to passions and prejudices. This is a hearing and we ask that it be confined to procedure proper to such a stage of any criminal case."

Edwin M. Gresham, uncle of Robert Franks, took the stand and told of identifying the body of his nephew.

He was not cross examined.

Father Tells His Story.

Jacob Franks, father of the murdered boy, controlled his emotions well, as he described the last time he had seen his son leave home for school. He gulped a bit as he told of recognizing in a body at an undertakers', the corpse of his own son.

"He was born December 19, 1909, was rather slight in build and about five feet tall," said the father.

He identified a pair of brown canvas tennis slippers as worn by the boy, with tan stockings and a belt buckle.

A blue necktie, with white stripes, was recognized as "my boy's." also a school pin. He identified, too, the ransom letters, sent by Loeb and Leopold, and signed "George Johnson."

Letter Read Into Record.

The letter was read into the record. It called for $10,000, of which $8,000 was to be in $50 bills and the rest in twenties, "all old bills."

"This is strictly commercial undertaking," said the letter. "Should you carry out these instructions, we can assure you your son will be safely returned within six hours."

Court recessed at this point until 2 p. m.

BAKER FAMILY DROWNS IN LAKE

Colo., to bring the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Baker and their son back to Havelock.

Mr. Baker had owned the Baker Pharmacy of Havelock for the past fourteen years.

He was born in Bennet, Neb., November 9, 1883, moving with his family to Havelock in 1893. His father, A. J. Baker, is a real estate dealer and justice of the peace in Havelock.

Mr. Baker was graduated from Havelock high school and then attended Creighton university at Omaha, where he took his degree in pharmacy.

Shortly after his graduation he went to Exeter and was employed in a drug store While in Exeter he met Miss Anna Paull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paull of Exeter, whom he later married. The marriage was twelve years ago.

Leaving Exeter, Mr. Baker was employed in the Chapman drug store at Tenth and O streets, where the Terminal building now stands.

He then purchased the B. G. Kinney drug store at 1320 O street, Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker had two children, Iota Janet, who died three years ago, and Richard, 2, who was drowned with his parents.

Mr. Baker leaves besides his parents, two brothers, Walter Baker, of Omaha, and Earl Baker of New York, and three sisters, Stella, who lives at home, and Bessie and Irma, now married.

Mrs. Baker leaves besides her parents a sister, Rose Paull, who left the Baker home in Havelock last Sunday for a trip to Vancouver, Canada; and four brothers, Ben Paull of Sterling, Colo., Jerome Paull of Weed, Cal. and Joseph and Stephen, now in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left Havelock last Tuesday for a vacation trip in Colorado.

DAWES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN HERE

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23.—H. E. Sackett, republican state chairman, announced here last night that Brig. Gen. Charles Dawes, vice presidential candidate, would open his national campaign with an address at Lincoln on Friday evening, Aug. 29. General Dawes is expected to speak elsewhere in Nebraska later in the campaign, Mr. Sackett said.

Arrangements for the Lincoln meeting have not been completed, according to Chairman Sackett, who added that General Dawes' itinerary in the tour of Nebraska to be made later was also indefinite at this time. The chairman indicated, however, that it was probable that the vice presidential candidate would address gatherings at several points in the state when he returns to Nebraska for his second visit.

Asked if General Dawes would speak in Beatrice, Mr. Sackett, whose home is here, said that he believed it would be possible to place this city on the schedule.

Mr. Crowe in his opening statement, described the "one week alibi," which the murders concocted. It included a purported trip to study a species of gull and a "joy ride," with whisky, gin and "pick up" girls as accompaniments.

Next was related the tracing of the spectacles to Leopold, how he had acknowledged the close resemblance of the glasses found at the culvert to those he had worn. Finally he had acknowledged their probable ownership and tried to explain their "loss."

"He purposely tripped to demonstrate that the spectacles would fall from his pocket," said Mr. Crowe. "But the glasses remained in the pocket of the coat. Finally he was asked to put the coat on the floor, pick it up by the tails, and the glasses fell out.

"The evidence will show that the glasses were lost just that way. Leopold washed the blood from his hands, asked Dick Loeb to pass him his coat and in the darkness Loeb picked it up by the tails and the glasses slipped out."

Mr. Crowe's recital of the investigation went into details of the treatment of the boys, including how the parents and other members of their families were allowed to talk with Leopold and Loeb, send them fresh clothing and toilet accessories and pay for meals.

Praises Reporters.

"We learned from alert and intelligent reporters of the Chicago Daily News that Leopold had a portable Underwood typewriter that had been used in preparing university work with four other students," said Mr. Crowe.

He went on to describe Leopold's attempt to fasten ownership on Leon Medill, II, a fellow student, then in Europe.

The state's attorney told how Sven Englund, Leopold's family chauffeur, shattered the alibi by revealing that the automobile supposed to have been used on the "joy ride" was in the Leopold garage all the time.

Then Mr. Crowe told of Dick Loeb's breakdown.

"He asked me why he was being held," said Mr. Crowe. "I told him it was because the state's attorney was fastening a web around Leopold and when that was done, Loeb would be in the case because he had said he was with Leopold throughout May 21.

Loeb Breaks Down.

"Loeb was told what circumstances were known and he exclaimed:

"'My God, give me a glass of water.'

"He was given the water and then said: 'Now, I'll tell you the absolute truth.'

"Then Leopold was informed that Dick was talking.

"'My God, no,' he ejaculated, 'Dick Loeb will stick until hell freezes over.'

"But he was convinced and started his story.

"Each accused the other of being the actual murderer and sought to save his own neck."

In bitter terms, the state's attorney denounced the defendants' efforts to fasten suspicion on others.

"To show the abandoned and malignant heart in the body of Dick Loeb, note, please, your honor, that he told newspaper reporters he knew Robert Franks and added:

"'If any one was going to kidnap any one, he is just the cocky kind of a kid one would pick.'

"And even then the boy was cold in death.

Demands Death Penalty.

"And in the name of fatherhood and motherhood and childhood of the state, we demand the death penalty for both these cold blooded murderers."

Then Mr. Darrow arose.

"Cold blooded and vicious' are terms in the litany of all state's attorneys and nothing else," he said.

"The state's attorney knows that this was not the most atrocious crime ever committed in this country."

Mr. Crowe was up, objecting that it was not time to argue, but to make a statement only.

Mr. Darrow agreed with the court that he should not go beyond objections and his opening statement at this stage.

"I am outraged, your honor, that the state's attorney should have started to stir fresh anger and hatred in this community," said Mr. Darrow. "We object that all the evidence which the state offers is incompetent and meant only for an appeal to passions and prejudices. This is a hearing and we ask that it be confined to procedure proper to such a stage of any criminal case."

Edwin M. Gresham, uncle of Robert Franks, took the stand and told of identifying the body of his nephew.

He was not cross examined.

Father Tells His Story.

Jacob Franks, father of the murdered boy, controlled his emotions well, as he described the last time he had seen his son leave home for school. He gulped a bit as he told of recognizing in a body at an undertakers', the corpse of his own son.

"He was born December 19, 1909, was rather slight in build and about five feet tall," said the father.

He identified a pair of brown canvas tennis slippers as worn by the boy, with tan stockings and a belt buckle.

A blue necktie, with white stripes, was recognized as "my boy's." also a school pin. He identified, too, the ransom letters, sent by Loeb and Leopold, and signed "George Johnson."

Letter Read Into Record.

The letter was read into the record. It called for $10,000, of which $8,000 was to be in $50 bills and the rest in twenties, "all old bills."

"This is strictly commercial undertaking," said the letter. "Should you carry out these instructions, we can assure you your son will be safely returned within six hours."

Court recessed at this point until 2 p. m.

Colo., to bring the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Baker and their son back to Havelock.

Mr. Baker had owned the Baker Pharmacy of Havelock for the past fourteen years.

He was born in Bennet, Neb., November 9, 1883, moving with his family to Havelock in 1893. His father, A. J. Baker, is a real estate dealer and justice of the peace in Havelock.

Mr. Baker was graduated from Havelock high school and then attended Creighton university at Omaha, where he took his degree in pharmacy.

Shortly after his graduation he went to Exeter and was employed in a drug store While in Exeter he met Miss Anna Paull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paull of Exeter, whom he later married. The marriage was twelve years ago.

Leaving Exeter, Mr. Baker was employed in the Chapman drug store at Tenth and O streets, where the Terminal building now stands.

He then purchased the B. G Kinney drug store at 1320 O street, Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker had two children, Iota Janet, who died three years ago, and Richard, 2, who was drowned with his parents.

Mr. Baker leaves besides his parents, two brothers, Walter Baker, of Omaha, and Earl Baker of New York, and three sisters, Stella, who lives at home, and Bessie and Irma, now married.

Mrs. Baker leaves besides her parents a sister, Rose Paull, who left the Baker home in Havelock last Sunday for a trip to Vancouver, Canada; and four brothers, Ben Paull of Sterling, Colo., Jerome Paull of Weed, Cal. ano Joseph and Stephen, now in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker left Havelock last Tuesday for a vacation trip in Colorado.

DAWES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN HERE

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23.—H. E Sackett, republican state chairman, announced here last night that Brig. Gen. Charles Dawes, vice presidential candidate, would open his national campaign with an address at Lincoln on Friday evening, Aug. 29. General Dawes is expected to speak elsewhere in Nebraska later in the campaign, Mr. Sackett said.

Arrangements for the Lincoln meeting have not been completed, according to Chairman Sackett, who added that General Dawes' itinerary in the tour of Nebraska to be made later was also indefinite at this time. The chairman indicated, however, that it was probable that the vice presidential candidate would address gatherings at several points in the state when he returns to Nebraska for his second visit.

Asked if General Dawes would speak in Beatrice, Mr. Sackett, whose home is here, said that he believed it would be possible to place this city on the schedule.

Young Man Killed In An Auto Crash

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 23—While enroute to the Dakota county Sunday school picnic at Dakota City, Neb., with his sister, Ernest Bemis, formerly an employe of the National Refining company at South Sioux City was instantly killed when his automobile collided with another car, one mile south of town at noon.

Why Should YOU Wait?
Why Should WE Wait?

Why Should Either of Us Wait Any Longer, for the Final, Decisive, "End-of-Season" Reductions on All Summer Clothes and Furnishings?

"Summer of 1924" as far as the clothier's selling interest is concerned, is GONE, flittered away, "nothing doing" any more as far as sales at regular prices are concerned.

WE KNOW IT! WE will not wait longer to give out end-of-summer inducements; they're here NOW. You know your summer-farewell price on any summer suit NOW. You know the final reductions on any summer shirt, summer hat or summer shoe. Underwear; children's summery things-all-anything-reduced in price—reduced to the limit—and below in many cases.

You see we have the new building to think of; new goods to buy for fall; new fixtures; new fame; new prestige. We DON'T want to be bothered with keeping any of our 1924 summer stuff NOW—and we WON'T.

HONESTY IN POLITICS.

A unique experience is beckoning to the American people.

Unless all calculations are upset, and strange and inexplicable events transpire, the presidential campaign, which is now in its initial stages, will be marked with less deceit and hypocrisy than ordinarily characterizes events of this kind It promises to be a clean, fair fight upon well-defined issues.

The people have the nominees of the two great political parties to thank for this situation. Both John W. Davis, the democratic standard-bearer, and Calvin Coolidge, who is seeking election on the republican ticket, are earnest, sincere men. They are not given to pretense. They have a habit of saying what they mean, regardless of the political consequences which may attach to their utterances In an even larger degree neither man is given to loose talk for the purpose of attracting votes.

No matter how widely one may differ with Calvin Coolidge in political views, they will be few, indeed, who will question his sincerity and honesty. The people of the middle west particularly cannot agree with the tariff policy which represents the president's political views. But they do not question his honesty in advocating a high protective tariff, or the ship subsidy for that matter. Mr. Coolidge is distinctly an eastern man of the old school, whose training and environment make him a devoted apostle of the protective tariff. The conservatism which tempers every word and every action of his is a heritage to him from New England. They are as much a part of him as the aloofness and the reserve which mark his personal contacts with men

John W. Davis is a different type.

He has all of the frankness, candor, straight-forwardness, and the courage of conviction that Calvin Coolidge possesses. But he is a genial, warm-hearted man, with deep sympathies and a broad tolerance for the opinions and rights of others. He came from a land where hospitality has been instilled in the minds of generation after generation. In spite of his brilliant intellectual attainments, his success in his chosen profession and the many honors that have come to him as a distinguished American, John W. Davis is still the kind generous wholesome neighbor who the West Virginians so highly treasure.

* * *

It is difficult to imagine how the course of this campaign can be changed.

Davis and Coolidge are both bigger than their parties. They stand shoulders above the leaders of each organization. They, beyond question of a doubt, will dominate the campaign and shape it to suit their desires.

Mr. Coolidge is an ardent republican of the old school. His blood has never been warmed by the progressive fires which have burned so fiercely in the central west. The party of McKinley and Taft's day is the organization which he reveres; the political philosophy which shaped the policies at that time is his faith. He sees no incongruity in a protective tariff which aids the manufacturer but which is of little benefit to the farmer in establishing the prices of his produce and which is positively burdensome in determining the prices of those things which he must buy. He is a hard-shelled conservative and if his wishes prevail his friends will not succeed in garbing him in any other clothes

Davis is a Jeffersonian democrat, but with strongly progressive leanings. He despises sham and dishonesty. As a disciple of Jefferson he does not believe that government should be used for the purpose of advancing the interests of any group or class. Naturally he is a firm and vigorous opponent of the high protective tariff because it is the grant of a special privilege to the manufacturers of this country.

The issue of privilege will be squarely drawn in this campaign.

The voters will be called upon to say whether government shall lend its offices to any group or any class.

GRATIFYING TRIBUTE.

The Fremont Tribune is a stalwart republican newspaper. Ever since 1865 it has upheld the banner of the g. o. p., in Dodge county and surrounding territory and in that earlier day when partisanship was placed above or was regarded as synonymous with patriotism, it would never have dreamed of saying of an opposition candidate, those things which it gave utterance to in a leading editorial commenting upon the nomination of John W. Davis for the presidency.

The Tribune does not believe that Mr. Davis will be elected, but it says frankly that if such a thing should come about he would fill the position with honor to the country and credit to himself Among other things the Tribune says:

"Throughout the great hosts of American democracy there is no man better fitted, if the people of the United States will it so, to serve in the presidential chair He is a sterling American citizen, the holder of a remarkable record in public and private life and a born leader."

After briefly sketching the candidate's life the Tribune continues:

"As a republican paper, the Tribune is more than willing to say without restraint that in spite of a long period of destructive turmoil the democratic convention has succeeded in picking a man well qualified to be president of the United States"

In conclusion the Tribune says:

"It will be no personal fault of Davis' if he fails to reach the high goal set for him He is a man above the ordinary political squabbling and bickering If such a thing should come to pass that he is elected by the people, he will fill the great position with honor to the country and credit to himself"

Such expressions as these from a partisan newspaper are both refreshing and gratifying. In this enlightened day few people listen to or read with patience words of vituperation or abuse aimed at a man just because he may happen to be the candidate for a certain political party. That day has gone by. What intelligent people demand is calm and fair discussion of men and issues and the one who descends from this plane injures rather than helps his cause.

It is a recognized fact that political parties are necessary in order that responsibility may be fixed, while experience has proven that the party system, as it exists in the United States today is the very best that has ever been devised for the control of government. A party to be sucessful, however, must be the champion of such measures as will, after full discussion, appeal to the people and it must be represented by candidates in whom the electorate will place implicit confidence.

The American people have become too wise to be misled by sophistry, or stampeded by reckless and intemperate partisan misrepresentations.

WHAT IS MONEY FOR, ANYHOW?

They're in an awful pickle up at Omaha. Somebody has discovered that the municipal treasury has $50,000 cash surplus which wasn't appropriated at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the members of the city commission are worried to death for fear that it can't be legally spent. The administrators of Omaha government never intended to overlook anything like that. They thought they had provided for getting rid of all the money which would come into the city treasurer's hands. But the revenue from miscellaneous taxes has been so much greater than was calculated as to pile up the $50,000 excess over what was appropriated for all purposes

The Omaha charter is quite explicit in requiring the city commission to formulate a budget at the beginning of the year and apportion specific amounts to the various departments. After that is done, the departments must keep their spending within the limits thus fixed. It seems that such a proviso was inserted to curb the tendency of city officials to spend more than was allotted them.

The plight in which the city commission of Omaha finds itself—that of having $50,000 on hand which is tied up and can't be spent—is the result of a mean trick played by Dan Butler, the black sheep of the city hall. Before the last municipal election, when the rest of the bunch tried to get rid of Dan and failed, he was the head of the finance department and made up the yearly appropriation budget. He underestimated the amount that was expected to be raised from miscellaneous fees and taxes, and the council, taking his figures as the basis, appropriated only what Butler figured.

What must be their chagrin now to see, hanging over their heads from the top of the municipal plum tree, a bunch of nice, juicy fruit which they cannot reach! Many are the hungry mouths that would like to sample those plums, and fain would the commission pluck them for distribution. But the law inexorable as that in the garden of Eden, says: "Ye shall not eat of this fruit. It is forbidden."

The Omaha situation forcefully illustrates the difference between the way in which public business is often handled and how a private citizen of thrifty habits or a mercantile firm would behave under similar circumstances. If the individual or the business house were to find a $100 bill lying around where its presence had not been suspected, it would go into the cash drawer of the bank account and be kept for future needs. But politicians in office are not interested in accumulating nest eggs for rainy days. Their ends are best served by spending all the money they can get their hands on.

In an effort to get around the charter restrictions, the city attorney of Omaha has been asked by the council for an opinion on whether it can legally transfer funds from one department to another. If so, it proposes to switch this $50,000 to some place where it can be spent An increase in salaries of city officers and employes is proposed as one method of using up the money. Other proposals are to increase the fire and police forces which were trimmed down following the municipal election last spring.

Omaha has fifteen or twenty million dollars of bonded indebtedness which will have to be paid off some time, but it apparently has not occurred to the city fathers that the $50,000 which has accrued in the treasury from miscellaneous fees and taxes might be carried over to 1925 and appropriated in the new budget for meeting interest and principal thereon.

All good Nebraskans will extend their sympathy to the Omaha city commissioners in the financial predicament that has befallen them. May nothing of the kind ever happen again!

NOTHER HERRIN?

The circumstances surrounding the action of 100 miners in visiting the little settlement of Cambria and forcing 175 non-union workers to leave are unknown. In the dispatches first forthcoming from the mine, no reference is made to the cause of the trouble.

The inference has been given, however, that officials of the company had agreed not to reopen the mine.

In at least one of the particulars then, the events at Kali-Inia bear a marked resemblance to the trouble at Herrin, which finally precipitated open warfare and resulted in the ghastly murder of non-union mine workers. Herrin's bloody warfare started through the refusal of operators to cease operations of a mine in which non-union help was employed. The operators employed guards and continued to work the mine in spite of threats and a state of siege.

Finally after sporadic exchanges of shots, the guards and non-union workers surrendered They were herded through the town of Herrin and over a score killed.

There was no violence at Kali-Inia.

The miners came to the mine in automobiles and ordered the workers to leave. There was no resistance on the part of the non-union men The hurriedly left and then the miners took their departure.

The fact that there was no serious consequences to the raid does not alter the situation Those who participated in it were guilty of an unlawful trespass on the property of the mine owners, and an invasion of the rights and liberties of men to work. It is situations of this type, which sometimes provoke bloodshed.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE NATION MAY SURVIVE

The boys, out at the edge of town,
Have played the seventh inning;
The nation's stock is going down—
The home team isn't winning:
Loud groans are heard as Tommy Flynn
Strikes out with two on bases.
And local fights are starting in
About a dozen places,
While, unconcerned about baseball,
Ed Marsh and Ezra Hicks
Are busy at the village hall
Discussing politics.

The Sewing Circle meets today
At Mrs. Amos Holley's;
The ladies have a lot to say
Concerning people's follies
The way they slander Clara Hines,
Poor woman, is amazing,
And if there's anything in signs
Dot Warner's ears are blazing.
But why he worried, after all,
If Dot has misbehaved?
There's turmoil at the village hall,
The nation's being saved.

The home team straggles from the field,
Defeated and dejected,
Dot Warner's record is revealed
And thoroughly dissected,
Beyond the town the sun sinks low,
The Western sky is ruddy,
And Ezra Hicks reels to and fro
With features that are bloody,
Ed Marsh limps from the village hall,
As near dead as alive,
He lost four teeth, but, after all,
The nation may survive.

Whims of Cripples.

The whims of crippled children oft lead them—to begging on the streets:

Human sympathy wells up, and spills over, at the sight of the crippled child. Fathers, mothers, utter strangers, playmates, yes, even doctors and nurses feel so sorry for the handicapped child that, in plain words, they spoil him.

Children, normal ones as well as those suffering a deformity, are quick to seize an opportunity of setting themselves up as tyrants. All through the formative years of childhood, the cripple demands and gets special attention and consideration. Is it any wonder that, when he grows up, he sallies forth to beg on the principle that the world has always taken good care of him and always will!

Marvellous changes are wrought in the mental outlook of a child when he is taken from the sehltering influence of his own home and placed in a hospital among many other crippled children. Here he gets no odds from his crippled fellows, and he soon ceases to expect them. From a sense of true proportion that fits him to battle on almost even terms with the rest of the world.

Simple for the effect on his mental viewpoint, the crippled child ought to spend a large part of every year in a hospital. On the curvative side, of course much may also be said for the hopitalization of crippled children. A large proportion of them could be saved from a lifetime of deformity if they were placed at an early age where they would receive proper medical and operative treatment.

Give the crippled child a chance to be somebody! In this world, the person who is made the object of pity—unnecessarily—is robbed of one of the greatest gifts in life: the opportunity to win against a cruel handicap. Fate may have deformed your child's body, but you cannot make up for it by warping the youngster's mind.

Questions and Answers.

Your questions on health topics will be answered by Dr. Dorothy Becker if you address her in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. Arthur M.—At what age do you think the education of a child on sex lines should begin?

Answer—It has been said on these questions, "Better a year too early than an hour too late." I believe that you should start when the child first asks questions at the age of four or five, and proceed by the various stages until, by the time the child is in high school, he is thoroughly and accurately informed.

X—How can girl of sixteen reduce the size of her bust?

Answer.—She cannot. There is this consolation however, that the bust probably will seem smaller when the rest of her development catches up

Money.

Palisade, Neb., July 22, 1924.To the Editor, Lincoln Star.

Money is the circulating medium of exchange, is is the business life blood of the people. It controls their lives, liberty and prosperity. It has no value in itself, but stands for or represents value and the value that our dollar stands for is fived according to the number of dollars in circulation or in the hands of the people that make the exchanges Money locked up in banks and held as reserves, is out of circulation and the banker, by locking up one-half of our money supply, increases or doubles the purchasing power of the dollars left in circulation, which doubles the value of their loans and the bonds that they hold. The loans of the banks in 1920 was over $30,000,000,000. Then the bankers commenced to decrease and corner our money supply by collecting it in and taking it out of the hands of the people and locking it up in their vaults and by this method they have increased or doubled the purchasing power of their dollar, which compels the farmer to put up double the amount of farm products to get the dollar. And through their scheming the bankers are confiscating the property and wealth of the farmers by billions, and forcing them into bankruptcy through the vicious and corrupt laws passed by congress, which is causing and spreading bankruptcy, suicide, crime and distress through the nation. The people should wake up and send honest men to congress—who will repeal the banking laws so as to take the control of our money supply out of the hands of the bankers and give us honest Abraham Lincoln money—Full legal tender for all debts, public and private, issued and put in circulation by the government, by paying its debts and expenses. The people should organize honest money clubs, and have the science of money explained so the people will understand the dishonest and unconstitutional money system that we have, which gives the bankers that great power over the people.

Suggestions For The Vacationist Of Late Summer

How about that vacation of yours? Where are you going and when do you go?

If you have not made your plans, isn't it about time? The summer is getting well along and it soon will be too late.

For those who have not come to a decision on where they will take their outing here are a few suggestions.

In Colorado, America's scenic playground, there is a wide variety of wonderful scenery, all of which is easily accessible. Also there is a most delightful climate and thoroughly modern facilities for the comfort and convenience of the visitor.

Whether his sojourn be for months weeks, or only days, the guest can arrange an enjoyable program of sightseeing and recreation to suit the time at his command. While it is impossible to see all of the hundreds of points of interest and beauty in a hurried visit, many of the more attractive and noted places, such as Summit of Pikes Peak by cog road, the Cave of the Winds, Seven Falls, Crystal Park, Mt Manitou Scenic Incline, Ancient Cliff Dwellings, Cripple Creek gold mining district, can be visited in a stay of a day or so.

Minnesota likewise offers a multitude of places where a day, a week or a month may be spent to good advantage. Rest and recreation are the guest's for the taking. Among the notable places will be found the Ten Thousand Lakes region, the north woods, and hundreds of other resorts, all of which are provided with cabins, cottages or camping places. Further south Iowa offers lakes and streams filled with game fish. Here are boating, camping, hunting, golf links, tennis courts. Great hotels with dancing pavilions, lake going-palaces and bathing facilities unexcelled.

Should these have no appeal perhaps you would like to go to the Gulf Coast—New Orleans to Mobile and Pensacola.

This is the south, the real south, the south of the shining magnolia and the blushful oleander, the slender-fingered sugar cane and the broad-handed palmetto. This is the south where chicken a la king gives way to chicken a la mammy, and sea food that would tempt Neptune himself up from the golden Caribbean

But if it is nearer home you want to go, how about the Black Hills with here and there a lusty trout, and here and there a grayling Here you will find Rapid Canyon, Dark Canyon, and Spring Canyon, the Bad Lands, Crystal Cave, Spearfish Canyon, Cathedral Spires and Sylvan Lake, and the cabin at the trail's end.

Across the border from Michigan, in Canada, many and beautiful outing resorts also are to be found. There is the St. Lawrence river and Saguenay river. A holiday trip on any one of the steamers which dock long enough at points of interest during a week's cruise, to enable one to visit on shore or lounge on deck, is a treat. No hotel expenses. You live on the boat for a week, cruising amongst the finest scenery on the continent, spending some time at charmingly located summer resorts of Murray Bay, the Newport of Canada; Tadousac, where Jacques Cartier first lanaded; and quaint old Quebec, cradle of new France.

HONESTY IN POLITICS.

A unique experience is beckoning to the American people.

Unless all calculations are upset, and strange and inexplicable events transpire, the presidential campaign, which is now in its initial stages, will be marked with less deceit and hypocrisy than ordinarily characterizes events of this kind. It promises to be a clean, fair fight upon well-defined issues.

The people have the nominees of the two great political parties to thank for this situation. Both John W. Davis, the democratic standard-bearer, and Calvin Coolidge, who is seeking election on the republican ticket, are earnest, sincere men. They are not given to pretense. They have a habit of saying what they mean, regardless of the political consequences which may attach to their utterances. In an even larger degree neither man is given to loose talk for the purpose of attracting votes.

No matter how widely one may differ with Calvin Coolidge in political views, they will be few, indeed, who will question his sincerity and honesty. The people of the middle west particularly cannot agree with the tariff policy which represents the president's political views. But they do not question his honesty in advocating a high protective tariff, or the ship subsidy for that matter. Mr. Coolidge is distinctly an eastern man of the old school, whose training and environment make him a devoted apostle of the protective tariff. The conservatism which tempers every word and every action of his is a heritage to him from New England. They are as much a part of him as the aloofness and the reserve which mark his personal contacts with men.

John W. Davis is a different type.

He has all of the frankness, candor, straight-forwardness, and the courage of conviction that Calvin Coolidge possesses. But he is a genial, warm-hearted man, with deep sympathies and a broad tolerance for the opinions and rights of others. He came from a land where hospitality has been instilled in the minds of generation after generation. In spite of his brilliant intellectual attainments, his success in his chosen profession and the many honors that have come to him as a distinguished American, John W. Davis is still the kind generous wholesome neighbor who the West Virginians so highly treasure.

* * *

It is difficult to imagine how the course of this campaign can be changed.

Davis and Coolidge are both bigger than their parties. They stand shoulders above the leaders of each organization. They, beyond question of a doubt, will dominate the campaign and shape it to suit their desires.

Mr. Coolidge is an ardent republican of the old school. His blood has never been warmed by the progressive fires which have burned so fiercely in the central west. The party of McKinley and Taft's day is the organization which he reveres; the political philosophy which shaped the policies at that time is his faith. He sees no incongruity in a protective tariff which aids the manufacturer but which is of little benefit to the farmer in establishing the prices of his produce and which is positively burdensome in determining the prices of those things which he must buy. He is a hard-shelled conservative and if his wishes prevail his friends will not succeed in garbing him in any other clothes.

Davis is a Jeffersonian democrat, but with strongly progressive leanings. He despises sham and dishonesty. As a disciple of Jefferson he does not believe that government should be used for the purpose of advancing the interests of any group or class. Naturally he is a firm and vigorous opponent of the high protective tariff because it is the grant of a special privilege to the manufacturers of this country.

The issue of privilege will be squarely drawn in this campaign.

The voters will be called upon to say whether government shall lend its offices to any group or any class.

GRATIFYING TRIBUTE.

The Fremont Tribune is a stalwart republican newspaper. Ever since 1868 it has upheld the banner of the g. o. p., in Dodge county and surrounding territory and in that earlier day when partisanship was placed above or was regarded as synonymous with patriotism, it would never have dreamed of saying of an opposition candidate, those things which it gave utterance to in a leading editorial commenting upon the nomination of John W. Davis for the presidency.

The Tribune does not believe that Mr. Davis will be elected, but it says frankly that if such a thing should come about he would fill the position with honor to the country and credit to himself. Among other things the Tribune says:

"Throughout the great hosts of American democracy there is no man better fitted, if the people of the United States will it so, to serve in the presidential chair. He is a sterling American citizen, the holder of a remarkable record in public and private life and a born leader."

After briefly sketching the candidate's life the Tribune continues:

"As a republican paper, the Tribune is more than willing to say without restraint that in spite of a long period of destructive turmoil the democratic convention has succeeded in picking a man well qualified to be president of the United States."

In conclusion the Tribune says:

"It will be no personal fault of Davis' if he fails to reach the high goal set for him. He is a man above the ordinary political squabbling and bickering. If such a thing should come to pass that he is elected by the people, he will fill the great position with honor to the country and credit to himself."

Such expressions as these from a partisan newspaper are both refreshing and gratifying. In this enlightened day few people listen to or read with patience words of vituperation or abuse aimed at a man just because he may happen to be the candidate for a certain political party. That day has gone by. What intelligent people demand is calm and fair discussion of men and issues and the one who descends from this plane injures rather than helps his cause.

It is a recognized fact that political parties are necessary in order that responsibility may be fixed, while experience has proven that the party system, as it exists in the United States today is the very best that has ever been devised for the control of government. A party to be sucessful, however, must be the champion of such measures as will, after full discussion, appeal to the people and it must be represented by candidates in whom the electorate will place implicit confidence.

The American people have become too wise to be misled by sophistry, or stampeded by reckless and intemperate partisan misrepresentations.

WHAT IS MONEY FOR, ANYHOW?

They're in an awful pickle up at Omaha. Somebody has discovered that the municipal treasury has $50,000 cash surplus which wasn't appropriated at the beginning of the fiscal year, and the members of the city commission are worried to death for fear that it can't be legally spent. The administrators of Omaha government never intended to overlook anything like that. They thought they had provided for getting rid of all the money which would come into the city treasurer's hands. But the revenue from miscellaneous taxes has been so much greater than was calculated as to pile up the $50,000 excess over what was appropriated for all purposes.

The Omaha charter is quite explicit in requiring the city commission to formulate a budget at the beginning of the year and apportion specific amounts to the various departments. After that is done, the departments must keep their spending within the limits thus fixed. It seems that such a proviso was inserted to curb the tendency of city officials to spend more than was allotted them.

The plight in which the city commission of Omaha finds itself—that of having $50,000 on hand which is tied up and can't be spent—is the result of a mean trick played by Dan Butler, the black sheep of the city hall. Before the last municipal election, when the rest of the bunch tried to get rid of Dan and failed, he was the head of the finance department and made up the yearly appropriation budget. He underestimated the amount that was expected to be raised from miscellaneous fees and taxes, and the council, taking his figures as the basis, appropriated only what Butler figured.

What must be their chagrin now to see, hanging over their heads from the top of the municipal plum tree, a bunch of nice, juicy fruit which they cannot reach! Many are the hungry mouths that would like to sample those plums, and fain would the commission pluck them for distribution. But the law inexorable as that in the garden of Eden, says: "Ye shall not eat of this fruit. It is forbidden."

The Omaha situation forcefully illustrates the difference between the way in which public business is often handled and how a private citizen of thrifty habits or a mercantile firm would behave under similar circumstances. If the individual or the business house were to find a $100 bill lying around where its presence had not been suspected, it would go into the cash drawer or the bank account and be kept for future needs. But politicians in office are not interested in accumulating nest eggs for rainy days. Their ends are best served by spending all the money they can get their hands on.

In an effort to get around the charter restrictions, the city attorney of Omaha has been asked by the council for an opinion on whether it can legally transfer funds from one department to another. If so, it proposes to switch this $50,000 to some place where it can be spent. An increase in salaries of city officers and employes is proposed as one method of using up the money. Other proposals are to increase the fire and police forces which were trimmed down following the municipal election last spring.

Omaha has fifteen or twenty million dollars of bonded indebtedness which will have to be paid off some time, but it apparently has not occurred to the city fathers that the $50,000 which has accrued in the treasury from miscellaneous fees and taxes might be carried over to 1925 and appropriated in the new budget for meeting interesst and principal thereon.

All good Nebraskans will extend their sympathy to the Omaha city commissioners in the financial predicament that has befallen them. May nothing of the kind ever happen again!

NOTHER HERRIN?

The circumstances surrounding the action of 100 miners in visiting the little settlement of Cambria and forcing 175 non-union workers to leave are unknown. In the dispatches first forthcoming from the mine, no reference is made to the cause of the trouble.

The inference has been given, however, that officials of the company had agreed not to reopen the mine.

In at least one of the particulars then, the events at Kali-Inia bear a marked resemblance to the trouble at Herrin, which finally precipitated open warfare and resulted in the ghastly murder of non-union mine workers. Herrin's bloody warfare started through the refusal of operators to cease operations of a mine in which non-union help was employed. The operators employed guards and continued to work the mine in spite of threats and a state of siege.

Finally after sporadic exchanges of shots, the guards and non-union workers surrendered. They were herded through the town of Herrin and over a score killed.

There was no violence at Kali-Inia.

The miners came to the mine in automobiles and ordered the workers to leave. There was no resistance on the part of the non-union men. The hurriedly left and then the miners took their departure.

The fact that there was no serious consequences to the raid does not alter the situation. Those who participated in it were guilty of an unlawful trespass on the property of the mine owners, and an invasion of the rights and liberties of men to work. It is situations of this type, which sometimes provoke bloodshed.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE NATION MAY SURVIVE

The boys, out at the edge of town,
Have played the seventh inning;
The nation's stock is going down—
The home team isn't winning!
Loud groans are heard as Tommy Flynn
Strikes out with two on bases,
And local fights are starting in
About a dozen places,
While, unconcerned about baseball,
Ed Marsh and Ezra Hicks
Are busy at the village hall
Discussing politics.

The Sewing Circle meets today
At Mrs. Amos Holley's;
The ladies have a lot to say
Concerning people's follies.
The way they slander Clara Hines,
Poor woman, is amazing,
And if there's anything in signs
Dot Warner's ears are blazing.
But why he worried, after all,
If Dot has misbehaved?
There's turmoil at the village hall,
The nation's being saved.

The home team straggles from the field,
Defeated and dejected;
Dot Warner's record is revealed
And thoroughly dissected;
Beyond the town the sun sinks low,
The Western sky is ruddy,
And Ezra Hicks reels to and fro
With features that are bloody;
Ed Marsh limps from the village hall,
As near dead as alive;
He lost four teeth, but, after all,
The nation may survive.

Whims of Cripples.

The whims of crippled children oft lead them—to begging on the streets:

Human sympathy wells up, and spills over, at the sight of the crippled child. Fathers, mothers, utter strangers, playmates, yes, even doctors and nurses feel so sorry for the handicapped child that, in plain words, they spoil him.

Children, normal ones as well as those suffering a deformity, are quick to seize an opportunity of setting themselves up as tyrants. All through the formative years of childhood, the cripple demands and gets special attention and consideration. Is it any wonder that, when he grows up, he sallies forth to beg on the principle that the world has always taken good care of him and always will!

Marvellous changes are wrought in the mental outlook of a child when he is taken from the sehltering influence of his own home and placed in a hospital among many other crippled children. Here he gets no odds from his crippled fellows, and he soon ceases to expect them. From a sense of true proportion that fits him to battle on almost even terms with the rest of the world.

Simple for the effect on his mental viewpoint, the crippled child ought to spend a large part of every year in a hospital. On the curvative side, of course much may also be said for the hopitalization of crippled children. A large proportion of them could be saved from a lifetime of deformity if they were placed at an early age where they would receive proper medical and operative treatment.

Give the crippled child a chance to be somebody! In this world, the person who is made the object of pity—unnecessarily—is robbed of one of the greatest gifts in life: the opportunity to win against a cruel handicap. Fate may have deformed your child's body, but you cannot make up for it by warping the youngster's mind.

Questions and Answers.

Your questions on health topics will be answered by Dr. Dorothy Bocker if you address her in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. Arthur M.—At what age do you think the education of a child on sex lines should begin?

Answer—It has been said on these questions, "Better a year too early than an hour too late." I believe that you should start when the child first asks questions at the age of four or five, and proceed by the various stages until, by the time the child is in high school, he is thoroughly and accurately informed.

X.—How can girl of sixteen reduce the size of her bust?

Answer.—She cannot. There is this consolation however, that the bust probably will seem smaller when the rest of her development catches up.

Money.

Palisade, Neb., July 22, 1924.To the Editor, Lincoln Star:

Money is the circulating medium of exchange, it is the business life blood of the people. It controls their lives, liberty and prosperity. It has no value in itself, but stands for or represents value and the value that our dollar stands for is fived according to the number of dollars in circulation or in the hands of the people that make the exchanges. Money locked up in banks and held as reserves, is out of circulation and the banker, by locking up one-half of our money supply, increases or doubles the purchasing power of the dollars left in circulation, which doubles the value of their loans and the bonds that they hold. The loans of the banks in 1920 was over $30,000,000,000. Then the bankers commenced to decrease and corner our money supply by collecting it in and taking it out of the hands of the people and locking it up in their vaults and by this method they have increased or doubled the purchasing power of their dollar, which compels the farmer to put up double the amount of farm products to get the dollar. And through their scheming the bankers are confiscating the property and wealth of the farmers by billions, and forcing them into bankruptcy through the vicious and corrupt laws passed by congress, which is causing and spreading bankruptcy, suicide, crime and distress through the nation. The people should wake up and send honest men to congress—who will repeal the banking laws so as to take the control of our money supply out of the hands of the bankers and give us honest Abraham Lincoln money—Full legal tender for all debts, public and private, issued and put in circulation by the government, by paying its debts and expenses. The people should organize honest money clubs, and have the science of money explained so the people will understand the dishonest and unconstitutional money system that we have, which gives the bankers that great power over the people.

L. H. LAWTON,
Palisade, Neb.

Travel and Resorts

Suggestions For The Vacationist Of Late Summer

How about that vacation of yours? Where are you going and when do you go?

If you have not made your plans, isn't it about time? The summer is getting well along and it soon will be too late.

For those who have not come to a decision on where they will take their outing, here are a few suggestions.

In Colorado, America's scenic playground, there is a wide variety of wonderful scenery, all of which is easily accessible. Also there is a most delightful climate and thoroughly modern facilities for the comfort and convenience of the visitor.

Whether his sojourn be for months weeks, or only days, the guest can arrange an enjoyable program of sightseeing and recreation to suit the time at his command. While it is impossible to see all of the hundreds of points of interest and beauty in a hurried visit, many of the more attractive and noted places, such as Summit of Pikes Peak by cog road, the Cave of the Winds, Seven Falls, Crystal Park, Mt. Manitou Scenic Incline, Ancient Cliff Dwellings, Cripple Creek gold mining district, can be visited in a stay of a day or so.

Minnesota likewise offers a multitude of places where a day, a week or a month may be spent to good advantage. Rest and recreation are the guest's for the taking. Among the notable places will be found the Ten Thousand Lakes region, the north woods, and hundreds of other resorts, all of which are provided with cabins, cottages or camping places. Further south Iowa offers lakes and streams filled with game fish. Here are boating, camping, hunting, golf links, tennis courts. Great hotels with dancing pavilions, lake going palaces and bathing facilities unexcelled.

Should these have no appeal perhaps you would like to go to the Gulf Coast—New Orleans to Mobile and Pensacola.

This is the south, the real south, the south of the shining magnolia and the blushful oleander, the slender-fingered sugar cane and the broad-handed palmetto. This is the south where chicken a la king gives way to chicken a la mammy, and sed food that would tempt Neptune himself up from the golden Caribbean.

But if it is nearer home you want to go, how about the Black Hills with here and there a lusty trout, and here and there a grayling. Here you will find Rapid Canyon, Dark Canyon, and Spring Canyon, the Bad Lands, Crystal Cave, Spearfish Canyon, Cathedral Spires and Sylvan Lake, and the cabin at the trail's end.

Across the border from Michigan, in Canada, many and beautiful outing resorts also are to be found. There is the St. Lawrence river and Saguenay river. A holiday trip on any one of the steamers which dock long enough at points of interest during a week's cruise, to enable one to visit on shore or lounge on deck, is a treat. No hotel expenses. You live on the boat for a week, cruising amongst the finest scenery on the continent, spending some time at charmingly located summer resorts of Murray Bay, the Newport of Canada; Tadousac, where Jacques Cartier first lanaded; and quaint old Quebec, cradle of new France.

PLAN ADDITIONAL AIR MAIL ROUTES

Will Make Omaha Hub of Expansion Program If Business Warrants.

(Associated Press.)

OMAHA, Neb., July 23.—Few residents of Nebraska are aware of the advantages the air mail offers them in "speedy delivery of their mail east, west, north or south," L. K. Bell of Washington, D. C., traffic manager of the air mail service, said here today in an address before the executive committee of the Omaha chamber of commerce.

The mistaken notion exists, he said that the service is confined solely to carrying mail posted in cities along the transcontinental route.

Mr. Bell explained the manner in which the air mail and railway mail schedules are coordinated so that "hundreds of towns within a 500-mile radius of each division point of the airway can save from one to two days in the delivery of mail to destinations in every state The cost of sending such mail by airplane and railway combined is the same for these cities as for those located along the air mail route.

"Letters mailed from off the air mail route and addressed to Louisville, Ky.," Mr. Bell said, "are forwarded by railway to the nearest air mail division point, which in Nebraska, is Omaha Then if the letter has the air mail postage, or the required amount of other postage with 'Air Mail' written under the stamps, it is carried to Chicago, the air mail division point nearest to Louisville, by airplane, and again forwarded by train to Louisville, reaching that city the next morning.

"The same service is given to points farther away, east, west, north or south, except that the postage required is additional."

Omaha is the central "hub" of the airway. Success of the new service means its expansion with correlating lines bringing the mail at high speed through the air from other cities, north and south, to be despatched across the country on the coast to coast air line, Mr. Bell said, adding that such development will make Omaha the distributing center for the bulk of the nation's mail.

"For this reason," he said, "a campaign has been started to urge Omaha and the state of Nebraska to patronize the air mail service."

DEPARTMENT SAYS INDIAN IMPOSTER

Government Officials Declare Frazier Claimant Is Not the Real One.

OMAHA, July 23— Aspecial dispatch received here by the Omaha World Herald, from its Washington bureau today said that neither the war department nor the veterans bureau will recognize the claims of the Indian world, war veteran of South Dakota, who declares the body buried at Niobrara, Neb., is not his, but that of another man.

According to war department officials, the dispatch said, finger prints taken of the original Arthur Frazier, in 1917, and another set, taken a year later, do not agree with those of the man claiming to be Arthur Frazier.

A SECOND VICTIM DIES OF LOCKJAW

Infection From Scratch Of Pin Results In Omaha Boy's Death.

OMAHA, Neb., July 23 — James May, the 14-year-old boy who has been lying critically ill in the University hospital with lockjaw for a week, died Monday night at midnight, after his mother and father had left the hospital.

For several days docors did not expect him to live, and expressed surprise that he fought it off as long as he did. His family was with him earlier in the evening, but he was alone when the end came.

The boy stepped on a pin July 11 He paid no attention to the small wound and infection set in, finally developing into lockjaw. The body was taken to the N P. Swanson funeral home.

Young May's is the second death in Omaha from lockjaw within a week.

Body Of Tivis Still In River

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 23 — While the search for the body of Dave Tivis, Arlington farmer, has been progressing ever since he disappeared in the swollen Elkhorn river Sunday afternoon, the active effort of officials, in dynamiting between the Tivis farm and the Arlington bridge has ceased temporarily. It was decided that on account of the high water, the prosecution of the search is dangerous while chances of recovering the body are slim. The river is lowering some today. Relatives and neighbors of Tivis are engaged in attending to the crops on his farm and his family is staying at the home of a neighbor

DAMAGE IS HEAVY FROM LOUP RIVER

Union Pacific Will Be Required to Build Five Miles of New Track.

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., July 23 — An inspection tour over the Union Pacific branch line Tuesday afternoon disclosed damage to the extent of $50,000 over the eleven miles from a point south of Ravenna to Pleasanton, as a result of the Loup river going on a rampage last Friday night. For miles a new grade will have to be established and a new right of way was purchased between Ravenna and Poole. In the eleven mile strip nearly five miles of the track has sunk into the river.

At Pleasanton, where over three of flood water covered the entire business and residence portion, the villagers are putting their houses in to order again One rather alarming situation that has developed, is the crippling of the water works plant and flooding of wells which supply the citizens. While it is thought there is no immediate danger of contamination and possible disease epidemic, the villagers have requested Governor Bryan to send out a member of the state department of health to make an investigation and such recommendations as he feels the situation warrants.

The greatest problem controlling Pleasanton is upbuilding of the streets With a sandy loam subsoil, washed away by flood undertow, the streets, concrete crossings and walks sank down from one to three feet. Several buildings also sank into holes which developed. To fill in these streets and the cut through which a new channel raced will take a tremendous amount of labor and will require weeks for completion.

Fills to the Pleasanton bridge, washed ut, have been temporarily spanned and travel can be resumed.

Threshing Resumed By Gage Farmers

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23—A number of farmers resumed threshing operations yesterday after being delayed for a week or more on account of wet weather. If the weather remains favorable the remainder of the week, much of the wheat crop will be marketed at the prevailing high prices which is more than $1 a bushel. J. J. Holmbeck, living northeast of Beatrice received a yield of twenty-bushels to the acre, and oats at the state feeble minded farm east of Beatrice yielded fifty-five bushels to the acre.

DODGE DEMOCRATS STILL INSISTENT

Want Dan Stephens As Candidate For Governor Regardless Of His Wish.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 23. — The Dodge county central committee of democrats has refused to take no for an answer from Former Congressman D. V Stephens. This week Secretary Luther Widman mailed out letters to all of the members of the state democratic committee urging the choice of Mr. Stephens to succeed Governor Bryan.

The plan here is to have John F. Rohn, Fremont member of the state committee, formally nominate Mr. Stephens before the state committee.

The letter sent out from Fremont points out Mr. Stephens' experience politically and in business as reasons for him being the most logical man for the governorship.

Two Old Settlers Die At Cambridge

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 23.—Two of the old settlers of Cambridge passed away very suddenly Tuesday. Samuel Brown, a teamster who has lived here for years felt a little sick at dinner and went out in the yard where he fell over dead. Mr. Brown was 76 years old and was still active

Abe Stahl who homesteaded here, also passed away very suddenly at the hospital. Mr. Stahl had an operation about ten days ago but was getting along fine. He was getting ready to leave the hospital when he collapsed and died. Mr. Stahl had retired from farming some time ago but had been runing a small dairy at the edge of town. His wife passed away suddenly just a short time ago. He was a prominent member of the Evangelical church and of the I O. O. F. lodge

Independence Day Accident Is Fatal

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 23.—Alfons Ogorzolka passed away at the home near here Tuesday. He was injured July 4. He was in the rear seat of a Ford car going to a celebration when some fireworks in the car caught fire In the scramble he toe the top of the car loose and it fell on the driver. The car ran into the ditch and all were thrown out, but the Ogorzolka boy was the only one hurt.

BUCKINGHAM ROBS EXPRESS COMPANY

Sent To Prison Three Times For Stealing From Same Corporation.

GENEVA, Neb., July 23.—Kenneth Bradford Buckingham was Tuesday sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge R D. Brown of the district court after he had pleaded guilty to embezzling funds of the American Railway Express company.

This is the third time that Buckingham has been sent to prison for embezzling from this company.

In 1921 he was employed under the name of W. N. Wilson as relief agent for the Burlington road and the express company and on June 4, after he had worked but a few days he absconded with funds of both companies.

About a month later he again obtained work with the express company at Costello, Cal., where he again absconded after working but a few days He was apprehended and sent to the California prison under the name of Joseph Kirby, and when his term there expired on June 10 he was brought back to Nebraska.

It has been learned that in 1919 Buckingham completed a term in the Wisconsin state prison for embezzling funds from the express company, officers say

Monroe's Streets Are Now Graveled

(Special to The Star.)

MONROE, Neb., July 23.—Graveling of the main streets of Monroe is about completed. Rainy weather has delayed the work longer than was expected. A number of other projects are being pressed by the Community club

The water mains are to be extended to the outskirts of the town next, so that all residences will be supplied with city water

Grading of the Grainland highway has been completed and spreading of gravel both east and west of Monroe has begun. Road markers have been placed in all directions from the town, so that all roads in and around Monroe are now in excellent condition.

The work wil be continued next year

THE MIDWEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was founded in 1906. It is not only a life insurance company, but it also has a fully equipped health and accident department. Its Home Offices are located at Lincoln, Nebraska.

THE MIDWEST LIFE wishes an emblem to use on its policies and literature. The Prudential Life has the Rock of Gibraltar. This is not the kind of an emblem THE MIDWEST LIFE desires. It prefers something distinctive of or typifying the great central west—something, for instance, prophetic of its future or realization of the day dreams of the past. The emblem, however, need not necessarily be limited to this or kindred ideas. This is a suggestion only. To the one furnishing a design which is accepted by the company, it will pay $150.00 cash. It will also pay to the one sending in the second best design, $75.00; and to the one sending in the third best, $50.00.

All designs are to be sent to THE MIDWEST LIFE, 1339 O Street, Lincoln, Nebraska, on or before November 1, 1924.

Our Mrs. Phillips, now in New York, sees the Majestic land, and tells about New Hats and their Trimmings

When the Majestic docked last week, it brought further confirmation of summer fashions and several costumes with a fall significance.

The Felt Shape

The felt hat, small and close, with an unbound and twisted brim is still the favorite hat, in black and in brown and in other colors that match the costume.

SHUTTER GREEN—a soft, deep, blue green.

BURNT RUSSET—a mahogany shade of red.

VENETIAN FUCHSIA — a medium red purple.

In London

All visiting Americans, tourists and folks, can be spotted because the women wear felt hats and the men straw, thus revising the English custom.

Although the felt hat for summer may be unusual in London, it is decidedly the accepted fashion in Paris and New York for summer and for early fall.

Off the Majestic

The imitation aigrette pom pom and pom poms of ostrich feathers make their first New York appearance in some 15 hats that are worn off the Majestic.

This is a fashion started by Reboux, that is now the sensation in Paris, where Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilts felt hat, with its aigrettes worth many thousand francs, was conspicuous at many events of the Paris season.

Pom Poms

The pom poms seen on the Majestic are fancies that can safely be imported.

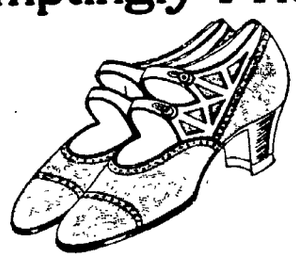

Sometimes they are worn standing straight up against the crown, but they are worn more often pointing out and downward from the side of the brim

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23.—Funeral services for the late Avery Dalton, Gage county pioneer, were held Tuesday afternoon from the family home, and burial was in Liberty cemetery. Mr. Dalton had resided near Liberty for forty-nine years, and he and his wife recently celebrated their sixty-seventh wedding anniversary. He was eighty-seven years of age, and his wife is eighty-four.

ELEVATOR BURNS.

(Special to The Star.)

COLERIDGE, Neb., July 23.—Fire supposed to have originated from dust explosion or spontaneous combustion completely destroyed the Crowell grain elevator here, and two empty box cars and a quantity of coal also were burned. The building was a total loss and a large quantity of oats and corn, stored in the elevator, was damaged by fire, smoke and water, but it is believed that much of this can be used for feeding purposes. The loss amounted to several thousand dollars.

OLD HOME BURNS.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 23—The old John D. Rockefeller home near Auburn was burned to the ground last night after convicts from Auburn prison tried in vain to save it.

NO CHANCE FOR ROACH

A roach may not find a poison powder or liquid. But there is a way that leaves him no choice. Insects breathe through pores, and a whiff of El Vampiro kills them. There's no danger, no mess. Puff it into the crevices for roaches, into the air for flies, around beds for bed bugs. Free plants, chickens, pets and animals of insect life. El Vampiro is in the YELLOW bellows box, 10c and 30c sizes, at the nearest store. There's a big sifter-top can for $1.25—and Liquid El Vampiro, too, for flies. It's just as potent. DAMAGE IS HEAVY FROM LOUP RIVER

Union Pacific Will Be Required to Build Five Miles of New Track.

(Special to The Star.)

KEARNEY, Neb., July 23. — An inspection tour over the Union Pacific branch line Tuesday afternoon disclosed damage to the extent of $50,000 over the eleven miles from a point south of Ravenna to Pleasanton, as a result of the Loup river going on a rampage last Friday night. For miles a new grade will have to be established and a new right of way was purchased between Ravenna and Poole. In the eleven mile strip nearly five miles of the track has sunk into the river.

At Pleasanton, where over three of flood water covered the entire business and residence portion, the villagers are putting their houses into order again. One rather alarming situation that has developed, is the crippling of the water works plant and flooding of wells which supply the citizens. While it is thought there is no immediate danger of contamination and possible disease epidemic, the villagers have requested Governor Bryan to send out a member of the state department of health to make an investigation and such recommendations as he feels the situation warrants.

The greatest problem controlling Pleasanton is upbuilding of the streets. With a sandy loam subsoil, washed away by flood undertow, the streets, concrete crossings and walks sank down from one to three feet. Several buildings also sank into holes which developed. To fill in these streets and the cut through which a new channel raced will take a tremendous amount of labor and will require weeks for completion.

Fills to the Pleasanton bridge, washed ut, have been temporarily spanned and travel can be resumed.

Threshing Resumed By Gage Farmers

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23—A number of farmers resumed threshing operations yesterday after being delayed for a week or more on account of wet weather. If the weather remains favorable the remainder of the week, much of the wheat crop will be marketed at the prevailing high prices which is more than $1 a bushel. J. J. Holmbeck, living northeast of Beatrice received a yield of twenty-bushels to the acre, and oats at the state feeble minded farm east of Beatrice yielded fifty-five bushels to the acre.

KIWANIS GROWING.

DODGE DEMOCRATS STILL INSISTENT

Want Dan Stephens As Candidate For Governor Regardless Of His Wish.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., July 23. — The Dodge county central committee of democrats has refused to take no for an answer from Former Congressman D. V. Stephens. This week Secretary Luther Widman mailed out letters to all of the members of the state democratic committee urging the choice of Mr. Stephens to succeed Governor Bryan.

The plan here is to have John F. Rohn, Fremont member of the state committee, formally nominate Mr. Stephens before the state committee.

The letter sent out from Fremont points out Mr. Stephens' experience politically and in business as reasons for him being the most logical man for the governorship.

Two Old Settlers Die At Cambridge

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 23.—Two of the old settlers of Cambridge passed away very suddenly Tuesday. Samuel Brown, a teamster who has lived here for years felt a little sick at dinner and went out in the yard where he fell over dead. Mr. Brown was 76 years old and was still active

Abe Stahl who homesteaded here, also passed away very suddenly at the hospital. Mr. Stahl had an operation about ten days ago but was getting along fine. He was getting ready to leave the hospital when he collapsed and died. Mr. Stahl had retired from farming some time ago but had been runing a small dairy at the edge of town. His wife passed away suddenly just a short time ago. He was a prominent member of the Evangelical church and of the I. O. O. F. lodge.

Independence Day Accident Is Fatal

(Special to The Star.)

CAMBRIDGE, Neb., July 23.—Alfons Ogorzolka passed away at the home near here Tuesday. He was injured July 4. He was in the rear seat of a Ford car going to a celebration when some fireworks in the car caught fire. In the scramble he toe the top of the car loose and it fell on the driver. The car ran into the ditch and all were thrown out, but the Ogorzolka boy was the only one hurt.

BUCKINGHAM ROBS EXPRESS COMPANY

Sent To Prison Three Times For Stealing From Same Corporation.

GENEVA, Neb., July 23.—Kenneth Bradford Buckingham was Tuesday sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge R. D. Brown of the district court after he had pleaded guilty to embezzling funds of the American Railway Express company.

This is the third time that Buckingham has been sent to prison for embezzling from this company.

In 1921 he was employed under the name of W. N. Wilson as relief agent for the Burlington road and the express company and on June 4, after he had worked but a few days he absconded with funds of both companies.

About a month later he again obtained work with the express company at Costello, Cal., where he again absconded after working but a few days. He was apprehended and sent to the California prison under the name of Joseph Kirby, and when his term there expired on June 10 he was brought back to Nebraska.

It has been learned that in 1919 Buckingham completed a term in the Wisconsin state prison for embezzling funds from the express company, officers say.

Monroe's Streets Are Now Graveled

(Special to The Star.)

MONROE, Neb., July 23.—Gaveling of the main streets of Monroe is about completed. Rainy weather has delayed the work longer than was expected. A number of other projects are being pressed by the Community club.

The water mains are to be extended to the outskirts of the town next, so that all residences will be supplied with city water.

Grading of the Grainland highway has been completed and spreading of gravel both east and west of Monroe has begun. Road markers have been placed in all directions from the town, so that all roads in and around Monroe are now in excellant condition.

The work wil be continued next year.

THE MIDWEST LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was founded in 1906. It is not only a life insurance company, but it also has a fully equipped health and accident department. Its Home Offices are located at Lincoln, Nebraska.

THE MIDWEST LIFE wishes an emblem to use on its policies and literature. The Prudential Life has the Rock of Gibraltar. This is not the kind of an emblem THE MIDWEST LIFE desires. It prefers something distinctive of or typifying the great central west—something, for instance, prophetic of its future or realization of the day dreams of the past. The emblem, however, need not necessarily be limited to this or kindred ideas. This is a suggestion only. To the one furnishing a design which is accepted by the company, it will pay $150.00 cash. It will also pay to the one sending in the second best design, $75.00; and to the one sending in the third best, $50.00.

All designs are to be sent to THE MIDWEST LIFE, 1339 O Street, Lincoln, Nebraska, on or before November 1, 1924.

Our Mrs. Phillips, now in New York, sees the Majestic land, and tells about New Hats and their Trimmings

The Felt Shape

The felt hat, small and close, with an unbound and twisted brim is still the favorite hat, in black and in brown and in other colors that match the costume.

SHUTTER GREEN—a soft, deep, blue green.

BURNT RUSSET—a mahogany shade of red.

VENETIAN FUCHSIA — a medium red purple.

In London

All visiting Americans, tourists and folks, can be spotted because the women wear felt hats and the men straw, thus revising the English custom.

Although the felt hat for summer may be unusual in London, it is decidedly the accepted fashion in Paris and New York for summer and for early fall.

Off the Majestic

The imitation aigrette pom pom and pom poms of ostrich feathers make their first New York appearance in some 15 hats that are worn off the Majestic.

This is a fashion started by Reboux, that is now the sensation in Paris, where Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilts felt hat, with its aigrettes worth many thousand francs, was conspicuous at many events of the Paris season.

Pom Poms

The pom poms seen on the Majestic are fancies that can safely be imported.

Sometimes they are worn standing straight up against the crown, but they are worn more often pointing out and downward from the side of the brim.

Watch Rudge & Guenzel's Millinery department fr the new things first—the authentic fall fashions in hats.

Tunney Favorite Over Carp In Thursday Night Glove Joust

BRITONS WARM UP TO TOM GIBBONS

St. Paul Scrapper Displaces Carpentier As England's Fistic Idol.

Big Crowds Watching Tom Do His Stuff In Training For Aug. 9 Fight.

TUNNEY AND CARPENTIER BOTH READY FOR BELL

NEW YORK, July 23. — Gene Tunney, American light-heavy weight champion, and Georges Carpentier, French idol, ended their long training grind today in preparation for their fifteen-round fight at the Polo Grounds Thursday night.

Tunney finished preparatory work at Red Bank and will rest there until he leaves for Manhattan.

Carpentier wound up his training last night in his outdoor ring at Great Neck.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

LONDON, July 23—Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul wonder, is a red hot favorite to win his fight over Jack Bloomfield when they meet here August 9

To show the trend of odds, Bernard Mortimer, former manager of Joe Beckett, the English fighter, who bet $35,000 on Beckett to defeat Georges Carpentier, the French idol, when they met for the first time, is offering 5 to 1 that Tom will win

Gibbons is in excellent condition. He is training at the London Country club, where he has luxurious quarters and uniformed lackeys at his command, in marked contrast to conditions prevailing in Montana a year ago when he trained for his fight with Jack Dempsey

Gibbons is rapidly displacing Carpentier as England's favorite among the foreign boxers Crowds flock to see him go through his daily routine and he is rapidly endearing himself into the hearts of the English by is modest, unassuming ways, but nevertheless his business like methods of training inspire respect.

Interest in the fight already is at fever heat. Wilson, the promoter, estimates that the gate will be more than $350,000. Gibbons will draw down $50,000 as his share

Tunney Slight Favorite.

NEW YORK, July 23. — Gene Tunney will enter the ring a slight favorite to defeat Georges Carpentier in their fifteen-round bout at the Polo Grounds Thursday night. When arrangements for the match were concluded by Jimmy Johnston, three weeks ago, the American light-heavyweight champion had the call, but in the meantime Carpentier has enjoyed a steady rise.

Francois Descamps, the Frenchman's manager, anticipates at premature ending of hostilities, with his protege the victory He predicts Tunney will not last more than five rounds. Billy Gibson, Tunney's director, is equally confident that Georges will go down for the count in the sixth round.

Tex Does Some Coaxing.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the proposed Mickey Walker-Benny Leonard welterweight title match, is attempting to persuade the state athletic commission to revise its decree that if the match is staged in a no-decision state all those interested will be penalized in New York.

Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, has signed contracts to meet Charlie Weinert, Newark heavyweight, in twelve rounds, and George Lamsno, Indian heavyweight, in ten rounds.

Luis Firpo, South American heavyweight, has signed a contract to meet Harry Wills, negro heavyweight. No definite date was set.

Tunney and Gibobns.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Gene Tunney, American lightheavyweight champion, will be offered a ten-round match with Tom Gibbons at Michigan City, Indiana, Labor day, provided Tunney defeats Carpentier in New York Thursday night. Gibbons, promoters said, is willing to box Tunney.

Olympic Cycle Riders Start On Distance Grind

PARIS, July 23. — Seventy-two bicyclists, representing twenty-two nations, started today in the first event of the Olympic cycling competition, the 188 kilometer road race (about 115 miles).

Four riders from the United States were among those starting at two-minute intervals in the Colombes stadium. They were Victor Hopkins, Ignatius Gronkowski, John Boulicault and Gus Hentschel.

The chances of the United States suffered a setback when Hopkins, the Davenport star and holder of the world's distance record, fell and broke his wheel.

Hebron Golfers In Finals Match For Jay-Husker Title

BEATRICE, Neb, July 23.—Two Hebron golfers, L. E. Thomas and F. Huntsman, will meet today in the finals of the Jay-Husker golf tournament. Thomas is the present champion

Thomas defeated O'Keefe of Beatrice in the semi-finals, 7 and 5. Huntsman won from Schilling of Hebron, 2 and 1.

Victor Foss Wins Snelling Medal

Victor Foss, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Foss, 2201 Woodcrest avenue, won the rifle championship of the R. O. T. C. training camp at Fort Snelling. His score was 227x250, the best of the field of 1,142 competitors. Foss excelled in rapid-fire work, his 98x100 being the highest score ever shot at the camp.

The championship carries with it a gold medal and trip to Camp Perry, O., next September. Foss is a student at the University of Nebraska.

HERE AND THERE IN BASEBALL

Tri-State Players Move Up.

Pick of the pastimers in the Tri-State league which blew all its tires last week and retired from the running, will have the chance to show their stuff in the Western, a class A circuit. With the Links are Pitcher Andehson of Beatrice, Pitcher Beck of Hastings and Outfielder Purdy of Beatrice, while the Des Moines Boosters have corraled Pitcher Ed Shupe of Grand Island, and Pitcher Richter, Shortstop Menard and first-baseman Stubengen, all of Sioux Falls.

Down in the race and probably destined to fight it out for seventh and eighth positions until the wind-up of the present campaign, the Lincoln and Des Moines managements are compelled to concentrate on going after the rookies and planning for better things next year. If Manager Josh Clarke can pick up a few youngsters able to go the pace this season, the policy of trying out Tri-State graduates will have proved its wisdom.

Pitcher Anderson, although retiring in favor of a relief hurler last Sunday, displayed enough stuff to convince Manager Josh that he is worthy of another start. Pitcher Beck, ex-Hastings, has yet to make his debut with the Links. Purdy, however, went the pace in both games of the Sunday twin ball and looked just as good as any regular in the lineup of either Saints or Links.

Snow Frozen to Class D.

Catcher Snow of Sioux Falls was one Tri-Stater on whom the Lincoln club had designs. The salary offer made by the management was satisfactory, but Snow had peculiar ideas —he demanded a guarantee that he would be retained on the payroll until the end of the season. When Manager Josh declined Snow pulled something even more peculiar—he tied up with a tailend club in a class D league.

With Snow at Marshalltown, Ia., are Bobby Quinn, ex-Beatrice shortstop, and Dick Cleveland, former Fairbury-Lincoln third-baseman.

Although idle Tuesday, the Links jumped from the cellar to the seventh rung of the Western league ladder, going ahead of the Des Moines Boosters, who dropped the first game of their road tour to Oklahoma City.

Victim of Fractured Skull.

Hopes of the Chicago Cubs to overtake the New York Giants were handed a sickening wallop yesterday, when Catcher O'Farrell, Chicago's mainstay back of the bat, was victim of a fractured skull. A foul tip crashed against his mask, the top of which was driven against his forehead with such force as to break the bones of his skull.

Brooklyn club of the National league has paid cash for the release of Shortstop John Mitchell, captain of the Minneapolis Americans, tossing in Second-baseman Klugman to complete the bargain. Klugman played the keystone sack for Des Moines last season.

Dippy Over Prize Fights.

Sioux City sport followers are downright queer—if not completely beyond understanding. The Iowa town, which fluked out of the Western league and later blew out of the Tri-State, wrecking the loop, is prize-fight dippy. A recent ring brawl in Siouxtown had an advance seat sale of $3,000.

Suggestion that Sioux City is a dead ball town chiefly because so many of its adult males were foreign-born, knowing nothing of baseball, may explain the situation, yet that particular diagnosis may be altogether wrong. Many of Lincoln's most loyal fans were born on the other side of the big drink, getting their first glimpse of the national pastime after taking the oath as adopted sons of Uncle Sam. The most enthusiastic supporter of baseball in Lincoln, as the writer views it, is Charley Salem, a native of Syria. During the park drive of last winter, Salem outhustled all others taking part in the stock-selling campaign, personally disposing of more than forty shares in the local park association.

Islanders Ready to Go.

Grand Island boosters are driving away on their campaign to raise a $1,000 purse with which to square the debts hanging over from the flivvering seasons in the Tri-State loop. Subscriptions are rolling in at a steady pace and the committee hopes to reach the goal before the end of the present week.

The Hall county capital, without a doubt, will toe the mark when the appropriate time rolls around to reorganize the league The smart move for the boosters for baseball in the lahger towns of the stae would be to insist that the reorganization shall be strictly an all-Nebraska loop Fiddling around with Sioux City this year brought nothing but grief The reorganizers probably could get Fairbury back into the fold, while a combination York-Seward team is another possibility North Platte and Kearney are ripe for State league membership In fact both were half-ready to join the fold last winter, but stayed out largely because the propaganda was conducted by mail instead of personal solicitation

Babe the Mighty Muffs Fly.

Detroit's end of the American league see-saw again is in the ascendancy today as a result of the Tigers' second straight victory over the Yankees A half-game margin separates the two leaders and Washington, by virtue of an even break in a doubleheader, still holds third place at a distance of one game.

Babe Ruth's muff of Woodall's long drive furnished the break which turned the tide of victory in Detroit's favor and ultimately downed the Yankees, 3 to 1.

Washington dropped the first of a twin bill to Chicago, 4 to 0, but came back in the second to score a 4 to 1 decision Thurston's great pitching featured the White Sox victory in the curtain-raiser.

Danforth had to come to Lyons' rescue in the ninth to enable St. Louis to maintain its 5 to 3 advantage over Philadelphia.

Boston managed to win its first game in twelve, starts by 4 to 3, after an eleven-inning tussle with Cleveland.

Giants Get Back at Reds.

After dropping the first two games of the series to Cincinnati, the Giants found themselves with a vengeance registering 17 hits foh a 9 to 4 triumph.

Tim McNamara pulled Boston out of the slough of despondency by holding Chicago to three safeties and one run while his teammates scored their tallies in the initial encounter of a twin bill, the Braves winning, 3 to 1 The Cubs took the second by 8 to 1.

Jupiter Pluvius kept his flood gates closed just long enough to permit Brooklyn to overcome Pittsburgh by 4 to 1 in five innings and eject the Pirates from third place.

A third straight defeat by Philadelphia by a margin of 5 to 2 launched St Louis on a losing streak which bids fair to parallel its recent winning string.

Cy Perkins Due To Depart From A's, Birdies Say

The little baseball birdies are saying that Connie Mack is planning to trade Cy Perkins, star catcher, for whatever he can get for him in the way of players likely to bolster up the gloomy chances of the Athletics. Rated the best backstop in the league a few seasons ago, Cy is getting no better.

ARCHARD-MAHOOD IN SINGLES FINAL

Crowning of Lincoln Tennis Champion Hinges On Wednesday Match.

Finalists Qualified For Title Whirl By Victories In Tuesday Contests.

ARCHARD-MAHOOD WIN

Fred Archard and Paul Mahood went into the finals of the city doubles tournament Wednesday morning by defeating Bob Russell and Don Elliott in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

Russell dislocated his knee during the first set and limped the remainder of the match. The Archard-Mahood combination had little trouble winning, cross-courting and passing their opponents at the net.

Fred Archard, 1923 Lincoln city tennis champion, and Paul Mahood, his doubles partner and sensational young performer on the Lincoln tennis team, won their way into the city tournament finals in a pair of sensational matches played on the University of Nebraska courts Tuesday afternoon.

Archard defeated Don Elliott, present state champion, in a gruelling five-set match, 2-6, 3-6, 9-7, 9-7, 6-3 Mahood too ka sensational five-set battle from Gregg McBride, 6-4, 6-1, 2-6, 10-12, 6-4.

Each match extended over a period of three hours and forty minutes, the players finishing so exhausted that play in the doubles was put over until Wednesday.

The gallery of several hundred spectators, which watched the matches, was treated to an exciting brand of tennis. After Elliott had stowed away two sets, Archard rallied to take the last three sets and match. Mahood won the first two sets from McBride, but dropped the third and fourth, only to come back and win the fifth and deciding set.

Archard Stages Comeback.

Elliott won the first two sets from Archard in fairly easy fashion. His service was breaking nicely and he rushed to the net to score consistently, capturing the first two sets, 6-2, 6-3.

The state champion looked like a sure winner in the third set, when he ran through the first two games with the loss of but three points. Archard came back and made it two-all, but dropped the next three games, giving Elliott a 5-2 game advantage. With this lead, Elliott pulled into a match point, but lacked the winning shot, Archard finally taking the game and eventually winning the set, 9-7.

In the fourth set, Elliott held a 5-4 and 6-5 game advantage, but again fell down at the critical time. Archard walked through the final and deciding set, Elliott letting down in his usual skill at covering the court and permitting Archard to beat him to the net. The match went 59 games.

Mahood Wins Long Grind.

The Mahood-McBride match went 58 games, the match featurin gthe long set of the afternoon, 12-10.

McBride continually beat Mahood at the net, while the University Place racqueteer played a clever back court game and cut loose with a series of brilliant cross court shots. court shots.

Mahood won the first set, 6-4, after McBride had gained a 4-2 advantage. The second set also went to Mahood, 6-1.

In the third set McBride abandoned his careful play and determined to risk his chances with overhead smashes. This proved effective and he won, 6-2.

The fourth set also went to McBride, 12-10, after Mahood had apparently stowed the match away. Some exceptional work at covering the back court gave Mahood a 5-2 game advantage and 30-five in the eighth game. Here McBride rallied and finally brought the court to 5-all winning the twenty-second game to take the set.

The fifth and deciding set was stubbornly contested, Mahood having a 47-42 point advantage and taking the set, 6-4. The score at one time was four games even. McBride lost his service, 4-1, and Mahood won his service after a long drawn-out game which went twenty-four points.

Doubles Played Wednesday.

Semi-finals in the doubles will be played today. Archard-Mahood were scheduled to meet Elliott-Russell in a morning match, while Stanton-McBride will play Weaverling-McProud at 5 p. m.

The Archard-Mahood match for the city title was scheduled to get under way at 2:30 this afternoon.

Archard is present city champion and former Nebraska inter-collegiate champion. Mahood was one of the best players in state college circles this spring and proved the sensation of the recent Des Moines-Lincoln inter-city match, when he defeated VanGinkel, former Des Moines city champion, in straight sets.

Jack's Arm O. K., Doctor Asserts

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Jack Dempsey's right arm, with which he punched his way to the world's heavyweight championship, dislocated at the elbow in an automobile accident Sunday night, likely will be slow in getting back to normal, but it will come back, according to a statement by Dr. Clair Wilson, the fighter's chief medical attendant.

Besides the injured elbow, Dempsey, according to his physician, also is suffering from strained ligaments in the back near the neck and cuts and abraisons on the legs and head.

The champion's perfect physical condition will be the principal reason for a complete recovery, Dr. Wilson said.

"Dempsey's recuperation will be an example of what can be done by a body that is kept in perfect condition at all times," the doctor declared.

AGED GOLF KEEPER ON JOB 55 YEARS

Grand Old Man of Hoylake Links Is Record Breaker For Long Service.

LONDON, July 23.—Jack Morris is the grand old man of British golf.

Morris has never been a champion, and he never will be, but he probably has had more to do with champions and championships than any other living golfer.

Jack is the professional at Hoylake, the famous course, near Liverpool, over which Walter Hagen won the British open championship this year. He has held the post for fifty-five years, which is believed to be a record.

It was in 1869 that the following notice was posted at the Hoylake club house:

"Jack Morris, a player of ability, has been appointed professional to the club. His duties are to keep the green in order and repair clubs at a moderate price He will also give lessons, and it is hoped that players of experience will give way to the younger players."

Ever since Jack has been "keeping the green in order," repairing clubs and giving lessons Recently the members of the club gave a dinner to celebrate Jack's long association with Hoylake, and Jack was very happy when assured that his services had given satisfaction and that he could look upon his job as permanent.

Tunney Favorite Over Carp In Thursday Night Glove Joust

BRITONS WARM UP TO TOM GIBBONS

St. Paul Scrapper Displaces Carpentier As England's Fistic Idol.

Big Crowds Watching Tom Do His Stuff In Training For Aug. 9 Fight.

TUNNEY AND CARPENTIER BOTH READY FOR BELL

NEW YORK, July 23. — Gene Tunney, American light-heavy weight champion, and Georges Carpentier, French idol, ended their long training grind today in preparation for their fifteen-round fight at the Pole Grounds Thursday night.

Tunney finished preparatory work at Red Bank and will rest there until he leaves for Manhattan.

Carpentier wound up his training last night in his outdoor ring at Great Neck.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

LONDON, July 23.—Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul wonder, is a red hot favorite to win his fight over Jack Bloomfield when they meet here August 9.

To show the trend of odds, Bernard Mortimer, former manager of Joe Beckett, the English fighter, who bet $35,000 on Beckett to defeat Georges Carpentier, the French idol, when they met for the first time, is offering 5 to 1 that Tom will win.

Gibbons is in excellent condition. He is training at the London Country club, where he has luxurious quarters and uniformed lackeys at his command, in marked contrast to conditions prevailing in Montana a year ago when he trained for his fight with Jack Dempsey.

Gibbons is rapidly displacing Carpentier as England's favorite among the foreign boxers. Crowds flock to see him go through his daily routine and he is rapidly endearing himself into the hearts of the English by is modest, unassuming ways, but nevertheless his business like methods of training inspire respect.

Interest in the fight already is at fever heat. Wilson, the promoter, estimates that the gate will be more than $350,000. Gibbons will draw down $50,000 as his share.

Tunney Slight Favorite.

NEW YORK, July 23. — Gene Tunney will enter the ring a slight favorite to defeat Georges Carpentier in their fifteen-round bout at the Polo Grounds Thursday night. When arrangements for the match were concluded by Jimmy Johnston, three weeks ago, the American light-heavyweight champion had the call, but in the meantime Carpentier has enjoyed a steady rise.

Francois Descamps, the Frenchman's manager, anticipates at premature ending of hostilities, with his protege the victory. He predicts Tunney will not last more than five rounds. Billy Gibson, Tunney's director, is equally confident that Georges will go down for the count in the sixth round.

Tex Does Some Coaxing.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Tex Rickard, promoter of the proposed Mickey Walker-Benny Leonard welterweight title match, is attempting to persuade the state athletic commission to revise its decree that if the match is staged in a no-decision state all those interested will be penalized in New York.

Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, has signed contracts to meet Charlie Weinert, Newark heavyweight, in twelve rounds, and George Lamsno, Indian heavyweight, in ten rounds.

Luis Firpo, South American heavyweight, has signed a contract to meet Harry Wills, negro heavyweight. No definite date was set.

Tunney and Gibobns.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Gene Tunney, American lightheavyweight champion, will be offered a ten-round match with Tom Gibbons at Michigan City, Indiana, Labor day, provided Tunney defeats Carpentier in New York Thursday night. Gibbons, promoters said, is willing to box Tunney.

Olympic Cycle Riders Start On Distance Grind

PARIS, July 23. — Seventy-two bicyclists, representing twenty-two nations, started today in the first event of the Olympic cycling competition, the 188 kilometer road race (about 115 miles).

Four riders from the United States were among those starting at two-minute intervals in the Colombes stadium. They were Victor Hopkins, Ignatius Gronkowski, John Boulicault and Gus Hentschel.

The chances of the United States suffered a setback when Hopkins, the Davenport star and holder of the world's distance record, fell and broke his wheel.

Hebron Golfers In Finals Match For Jay-Husker Title

BEATRICE, Neb., July 23.—Two Hebron golfers, L. E. Thomas and F. Huntsman, will meet today in the finals of the Jay-Husker golf tournament. Thomas is the present champion.

Thomas defeated O'Keefe of Beatrice in the semi-finals, 7 and 5. Huntsman won from Schilling of Hebron, 2 and 1.

Victor Foss Wins Snelling Medal

Victor Foss, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Foss, 2201 Woodcrest avenue, won the rifle championship of the R. O. T. C. training camp at Fort Snelling. His score was 227x250, the best of the field of 1,142 competitors. Foss excelled in rapid-fire work, his 98x100 being the highest score ever shot at the camp.

The championship carries with it a gold medal and trip to Camp Perry, O., next September. Foss is a student at the University of Nebraska.

HERE AND THERE IN BASEBALL

Tri-State Players Move Up.

Pick of the pastimers in the Tri-State league which blew all its tires last week and retired from the running, will have the chance to show their stuff in the Western, a class A circuit. With the Links are Pitcher Andehson of Beatrice, Pitcher Beck of Hastings and Outfielder Purdy of Beatrice, while the Des Moines Boosters have corraled Pitcher Ed Shupe of Grand Island, and Pitcher Richter, Shortstop Menard and first-baseman Stubengen, all of Sioux Falls.

Down in the race and probably destined to fight it out for seventh and eighth positions until the wind-up of the present campaign, the Lincoln and Des Moines managements are compelled to concentrate on going after the rookies and planning for better things next year. If Manager Josh Clarke can pick up a few youngsters able to go the pace this season, the policy of trying out Tri-State graduates will have proved its wisdom.

Pitcher Anderson, although retiring in favor of a relief hurler last Sunday, displayed enough stuff to convince Manager Josh that he is worthy of another start. Pitcher Beck, ex-Hastings, has yet to make his debut with the Links. Purdy, however, went the pace in both games of the Sunday twin ball and looked just as good as any regular in the lineup of either Saints or Links.

Snow Frozen to Class D.

Catcher Snow of Sioux Falls was one Tri-Stater on whom the Lincoln club had designs. The salary offer made by the management was satisfactory, but Snow had peculiar ideas —he demanded a guarantee that he would be retained on the payroll until the end of the season. When Manager Josh declined Snow pulled something even more peculiar—he tied up with a tailend club in a class D league.

With Snow at Marshalltown, Ia., are Bobby Quinn, ex-Beatrice shortstop, and Dick Cleveland, former Fairbury-Lincoln third-baseman.

Although idle Tuesday, the Links jumped from the cellar to the seventh rung of the Western league ladder, going ahead of the Des Moines Boosters, who dropped the first game of their road tour to Oklahoma City.

Victim of Fractured Skull.

Hopes of the Chicago Cubs to overtake the New York Giants were handed a sickening wallop yesterday, when Catcher O'Farrell, Chicago's mainstay back of the bat, was victim of a fractured skull. A foul tip crashed against his mask, the top of which was driven against his forehead with such force as to break the bones of his skull.

Brooklyn club of the National league has paid cash for the release of Shortstop John Mitchell, captain of the Minneapolis Americans, tossing in Second-baseman Klugman to complete the bargain. Klugman played the keystone sack for Des Moines last season.

Dippy Over Prize Fights.

Sioux City sport followers are downright queer—if not completely beyond understanding. The Iowa town, which fluked out of the Western league and later blew out of the Tri-State, whecking the loop, is prize-fight dippy. A recent ring brawl in Siouxtown had an advance seat sale of $3,000.

Suggestion that Sioux City is a dead ball town chiefly because so many of its adult males were foreign-born, knowing nothing of baseball, may explain the situation, yet that particular diagnosis may be altogether wrong. Many of Lincoln's most loyal fans were born on the other side of the big drink, getting their first glimpse of the national pastime after taking the oath as adopted sons of Uncle Sam. The most enthusiastic supporter of baseball in Lincoln, as the writer views it, is Charley Salem, a native of Syria. During the park drive of last winter, Salem outhustled all others taking part in the stock-selling campaign, personally disposing of more than forty shares in the local park association.

Islanders Ready to Go.

Grand Island boosters are driving away on their campaign to raise a $1,000 purse with which to square the debts hanging over from the flivvering seasons in the Tri-State loop. Subscriptions are rolling in at a steady pace and the committee hopes to reach the goal before the end of the present week.

The Hall county capital, without a doubt, will toe the mark when the appropriate time rolls around to reorganize the league. The smart move for the boosters for baseball in the lahger towns of the stae would be to insist that the reorganization shall be strictly an all-Nebraska loop. Fiddling around with Sioux City this year brought nothing but grief. The reorganizers probably could get Fairbury back into the fold, while a combination York-Seward team is another possibility. North Platte and Kearney are ripe for State league membership. In fact both were half-ready to join the fold last winter, but stayed out largely because the propaganda was conducted by mail instead of personal solicitation.

Babe the Mighty Muffs Fly.

Detroit's end of the American league see-saw again is in the ascendancy today as a result of the Tigers' second straight victory over the Yankees. A half-game margin separates the two leaders and Washington, by virtue of an even break in a doubleheader, still holds third place at a distance of one game.

Babe Ruth's muff of Woodall's long drive furnished the break which turned the tide of victory in Detroit's favor and ultimately downed the Yankees, 3 to 1.

Washington dropped the first of a twin bill to Chicago, 4 to 0, but came back in the second to score a 4 to 1 decision. Thurston's great pitching featured the White Sox victory in the curtain-raiser.

Danforth had to come to Lyons' rescue in the ninth to enable St. Louis to maintain its 5 to 3 advantage over Philadelphia.

Boston managed to win its first game in twelve starts by 4 to 3, after an eleven-inning tussle with Cleveland.

Giants Get Back at Reds.

After dropping the first two games of the series to Cincinnati, the Giants found themselves with a vengeance registering 17 hits foh a 9 to 4 triumph.

Tim McNamara pulled Boston out of the slough of despondency by holding Chicago to three safeties and one run while his teammates scored their tallies in the initial encounter of a twin bill, the Braves winning, 3 to 1. The Cubs took the second by 8 to 1.

Jupiter Pluvius kept his flood gates closed just long enough to permit Brooklyn to overcome Pittsburgh by 4 to 1 in five innings and eject the Pirates from third place.

A third straight defeat by Philadelphia by a margin of 5 to 2 launched St. Louis on a losing streak which bids fair to parallel its recent winning string.

ARCHARD-MAHOOD IN SINGLES FINAL

Crowning of Lincoln Tennis Champion Hinges On Wednesday Match.

ARCHARD-MAHOOD WIN

Fred Archard and Paul Mahood went into the finals of the city doubles tournament Wednesday morning by defeating Bob Russell and Don Elliott in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

Russell dislocated his knee during the first set and limped the remainder of the match. The Archard-Mahood combination had little trouble winning, cross-courting and passing their opponents at the net.

Fred Archard, 1923 Lincoln city tennis champion, and Paul Mahood, his doubles partner and sensational young performer on the Lincoln tennis team, won their way into the city tournament finals in a pair of sensational matches played on the University of Nebraska courts Tuesday afternoon.

Archard defeated Don Elliott, present state champion, in a gruelling five-set match, 2-6, 3-6, 9-7, 9-7, 6-3. Mahood too ka sensational five-set battle from Gregg McBride, 6-4, 6-1, 2-6, 10-12, 6-4.

Each match extended over a period of three hours and forty minutes, the players finishing so exhausted that play in the doubles was put over until Wednesday.

The gallery of several hundred spectators, which watched the matches, was treated to an exciting brand of tennis. After Elliott had stowed away two sets, Archard rallied to take the last three sets and match. Mahood won the first two sets from McBride, but dropped the third and fourth, only to come back and win the fifth and deciding set.

Archard Stages Comeback.

Elliott won the first two sets from Archard in fairly easy fashion. His service was breaking nicely and he rushed to the net to score consistently, capturing the first two sets, 6-2, 6-3.

The state champion looked like a sure winner in the third set, when he ran through the first two games with the loss of but three points. Archard came back and made it two-all, but dropped the next three games, giving Elliott a 5-2 game advantage. With this lead, Elliott pulled into a match point, but lacked the winning shot, Archard finally taking the game and eventually winning the set, 9-7.

In the fourth set, Elliott held a 5-4 and 6-5 game advantage, but again fell down at the critical time. Archard walked through the final and deciding set, Elliott letting down in his usual skill at covering the court and permitting Archard to beat him to the net. The match went 59 games.

Mahood Wins Long Grind.

The Mahood-McBride match went 58 games, the match featurin gthe long set of the afternoon, 12-10.

McBride continually beat Mahood at the net, while the University Place racqueteer played a clever back court game and cut loose with a series of brilliant cross court shots. court shots.

Mahood won the first set, 6-4, after McBride had gained a 4-2 advantage. The second set also went to Mahood, 6-1.

In the third set McBride abandoned his careful play and determined to risk his chances with overhead smashes. This proved effective and he won, 6-2.

The fourth set also went to McBride, 12-10, after Mahood had apparently stowed the match away. Some exceptional work at covering the back court gave Mahood a 5-2 game advantage and 30-five in the eighth game. Here McBride rallied and finally brought the court to 5-all winning the twenty-second game to take the set.

The fifth and deciding set was stubbornly contested, Mahood having a 47-42 point advantage and taking the set, 6-4. The score at one time was four games even. McBride lost his service, 4-1, and Mahood won his service after a long drawn-out game which went twenty-four points.

Doubles Played Wednesday.

Semi-finals in the doubles will be played today. Archard-Mahood were scheduled to meet Elliott-Russell in a morning match, while Stanton-McBride will play Weaverling-McProud at 5 p. m.

The Archard-Mahood match for the city title was scheduled to get under way at 2:30 this afternoon.

Archard is present city champion and former Nebraska inter-collegiate champion. Mahood was one of the best players in state college circles this spring and proved the sensation of the recent Des Moines-Lincoln inter-city match, when he defeated VanGinkel, former Des Moines city champion, in straight sets.

Jack's Arm O. K., Doctor Asserts

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—Jack Dempsey's right arm, with which he punched his way to the world's heavyweight championship, dislocated at the elbow in an automobile accident Sunday night, likely will be slow in getting back to normal, but it will come back, according to a statement by Dr. Clair Wilson, the fighter's chief medical attendant.

Besides the injured elbow, Dempsey, according to his physician, also is suffering from strained ligaments in the back near the neck and cuts and abraisons on the legs and head.

The champion's perfect physical condition will be the principal reason for a complete recovery, Dr. Wilson said.

"Dempsey's recuperation will be an example of what can be done by a body that is kept in perfect condition at all times," the doctor declared.

AGED GOLF KEEPER ON JOB 55 YEARS

Grand Old Man of Hoylake Links Is Record Breaker For Long Service.

LONDON, July 23.—Jack Morris is the grand old man of British golf.

Morris has never been a champion, and he never will be, but he probably has had more to do with champions and championships than any other living golfer.

Jack is the professional at Hoylake, the famous course, near Liverpool, over which Walter Hagen won the British open championship this year. He has held the post for fifty-five years, which is believed to be a record.

It was in 1869 that the following notice was posted at the Hoylake club house:

"Jack Morris, a player of ability, has been appointed professional to the club. His duties are to keep the green in order and repair clubs at a moderate price. He will also give lessons, and it is hoped that players of experience will give way to the younger players."

Ever since Jack has been "keeping the green in order," repairing clubs and giving lessons. Recently the members of the club gave a dinner to celebrate Jack's long association with Hoylake, and Jack was very happy when assured that his services had given satisfaction and that he could look upon his job as permanent.

READY TO DECIDE THE FATE OF TWO CHICAGO YOUTHS

Punishment Of Leopold And Loeb Hinges On Mental Responsibility.

Prosecution And Defense Prepared For Strenuous Court Battle.

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO July 23—Fixing of the degree of moral turpitude is expected to be the legal problem by which will be determined the ultimate fate of Nathan Leopold jr and Richard Loeb who kidnaped and killed Robert Franks for a thrill

Upon the development of this question legal experts say will hinge whether they shall hang or go to the penitentiary First steps in arriving at a solution of the question were to be taken today when the youths who Monday pleaded guilty will appear in court for a hearing preliminary to their formal sentence

Admission of the crime by the two sons of Chicago millionaires before Judge John R Caverly wiped out the possibility of a plea of insanity at least until after sentence has been passed The defense asked permission to present evidence in mitigation of punishment based upon the youth of the defendants and their degree of mental responsibility Attorneys agreed however that if mental responsibility is linked in this case with the question of moral turpitude it will be the first such instance in the history of Illinois courts

Defense Is Prepared

Clarence S Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach attorneys for the defense were cryptic in their discussion of this phase of the case

We can go as far as we like in the presentation of insanity evidence and we probably will Mr Darrow said

Robert E Crowe states attorney however had declared that he will not agree to the presentation of any evidence tending to show the boys insane except before the jury He spent Tuesday in seclusion busied with last minute preparation of the statement with which he expects to open proceedings today

The court room where will be decided the punishment to be meted out for one of the most startling and sensational crimes in Chicago's history was given over yesterday to carpenters and wiremen who were busy installing bench's telegraph circuits and seats for one of the largest assemblages of writers in the history of local courts

Many Witnesses

No less than eighty one witnesses will be called by the state unless the court decides that he does not need all this detail The state will also offer about sixty exhibits ranging from a chisel and typewriter to the hotel registration cards filled out by Loeb in an effort to cover the tracks of Leopold and himself in case they had to flee

The oral testimony according to plans will begin with the calling to the stand of Jacob Franks father of the murdered boy Yesterday Franks appeared before a grand jury to testify regarding a letter sent by two other youths now in custody in which his daughter's life was threatened In a statement yesterday the father of the slain boy termed his so na mar tyr declaring that he by dying saved the lives of five other children Leopold and Loeb were considering as their victims

NOT DECIDED ON LA FOLLETTE MEN

Personnel of Senator's Campaign Committee Not Yet Selected.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON July 23 — Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and his advisers failed Tuesday to reach a final agreement on the personnel of the committee which will have charge of his presidential campaign The make up of the committee however has been virtually determined only one or two of the eleven places remaining to be filled

Difficulties are being encountered it is understood in making selections that are certain to meet with the approval of the varied groups enlisted in the La Follette for president movement In addition steps are being taken to ascertain before any announcement of personnel is made whether those selected will be inclined to serve and will be able to devote their time during the campaign almost exclusively to committee work

Agreement has been reached the Representative Nelson of Wisconsin who is in charge of the campaign with headquarters in Chicago is to be committee chairman Of the other ten members Senator La Follette and Senator Wheeler of Montana his running mate are choosing five and the Conference for Progressive Political Action a line number It was predicted that two members probably would be women

Punishment Of Leopold And Loeb Hinges On Mental Responsibility.

Prosecution And Defense Prepared For Strenuous Court Battle.

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 23—Fixing of the degree of 'moral turpitude" is expected to be the legal problem by which will be determined the ultimate fate of Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, who kidnaped and killed Robert Franks for a thrill.

Upon the development of this question, legal experts say, will hinge whether they shall hang or go to the penitentiary. First steps in arriving at a solution of the question were to be taken today when the youths, who Monday pleaded guilty will appear in court for a hearing preliminary to their formal sentence.

Admission of the crime by the two sons of Chicago millionaires before Judge John R. Caverly wiped out the possibility of a plea of insanity, at least until after sentence has been passed. The defense asked permission to present evidence in mitigation of punishment based upon the youth of the defendants and their "degree of mental responsibility." Attorneys agreed, however, that if mental responsibility is linked in this case with the question of 'moral turpitude" it will be the first such instance in the history of Illinois courts.

Defense Is Prepared.

Clarence S. Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, attorneys for the defense, were cryptic in their discussion of this phase of the case.

"We can go as far as we like in the presentation of insanity evidence and we probably will," Mr. Darrow said.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK July 23

Improved steel trade reports rising commodity prices and cheap money combined to lift stock prices higher today Public utility issues gained 1 to 8 points shared in the advance with rails motor accessory and food issues but early gains were reduced in the late trading Sales approximated 1 200 000 shares

Continuing price movements marked the opening of today's stock market with leading steel issues manifesting heaviness on the trade commission's order directing abandonment of the cost plus system United States Steel dropped to 101⅛

New 1924 high records were established by Union Pacific Great Northern pfd Northern Pacific Illinois Central Omaha and Union Tank Car A 3 point rise in Union Pacific carried it a ?

Foreign exchanges opened steady

The continued flow of buying orders led to short covering which pushed prices up further Improved demand for steel from selling centers reported by the weekly trade reviews outweighed the adverse Pittsburgh plus decision as the market factor and the steel shares threw off their early heaviness ¼

Call Money opened at 2 per cent,

With business reports becoming more favorable and money abundant the demand for stocks was unabated during the afternoon although the rise proceeded in a more moderate fashion The market for public utility shares was much better

The close was irregular Various rails and specialties fell back in the late trading under realizing sales and pressure from bear operators

GAVE FIGURES TO RAILROADS FIRST

Equalization Board Finds 21 County Officers Furnished Data to Carriers.

Roads Contest Assessments and Demand Higher Valuations of Farms.

Twenty one county clerks and registers of deeds in Nebraska furnished tax data to the railroad companies this year for use by the companies in contesting assessments and demanding that farm land valuations be raised without sending the same information to the state tax commissioner or the state board of equalization

This is one of the facts brought out Wednesday forenoon in the hearing before the state board of equalization on both railroad and farm land assessments It was testified to by R D Pollard, tax agent for the Burlington who presented statistical tables showing assessed values of land in nearly all counties of Nebraska with a comparison of sales values as shown by recorded conveyances in each

Mr Pollard had reports from thirteen registers of deeds and twenty eight county clerks as well as some from deputy county clerks or office assistants It was inferred that all of the persons furnishing such data were paid by the railroads for their services In a number of counties the figures were obtained from real estate abstracters while the railroads used their own employes in eight counties

At the request of Governor Bryan chairman of the state board Mr Pollard read into the record the names of all those who supplied the carriers with the information being used by them in challenging their own assessments and asking to have farm values boosted for taxation

Roads Make Joint Showing

All of the seven principal railroads operating in Nebraska having a considerable mileage of tracks within the state were represented by counsel at the hearing They submitted their case jointly through the Burlington tax agent's testimony and exhibits under questioning by Byron Clark attorney for the same road

One set of figures showed mortgages recorded in 87 counties during the tax year from April 1 1923 to the same date of 1924 The assessed values of the lands covered were given for 1921 1922 and 1924 showing some instances a decrease and in others an increase These were compared with valuations placed upon the lands by the owners when applying for loans and the sums at which they were appraised by the mortgages

The ratio of assessed valuation to loan values was said to average from 39 3 to 55 6 per cent

In the same counties the ratio of assessment to sales values of lands transferred ranged from 34 54 to 61 1 per cent

Claim Lands Assessed Too Low.

It was contended generally by the railroads that their property is assessed for its full value, or more while farm lands are listed for taxes on a basis of not more than 58 per cent of their real worth

The state board heard the railroads first giving county clerks assessors, attorneys commissioners and supervisors who were present a chance to hear what they had to offer and reply thereto At noon the carriers had not yet finished their presentation

Among the counties represented at the hearing were Buffalo Burt Clay Cuming Custer Dakota Dawes, Dodge Dundy Greeley Hall Holt Hooker Lancaster Sherman and Washington

Cuming county sent six of its supervisors—Charles Meyer Howard Nellor J H Russman George C Weborg William Dill and F F Wortman—together with County Clerk Rudolph Brazda and County Attorney R R Moodie

County Assessor T T Plummer and County Attorney Herbert H Rhodes were on hand for Burt county J A Welton county assessor was present for Dodge

LINCOLN WILL BE HUB OF NETWORK OF POWER LINES

Nebraska Electric Company Will Extend System Into Other States

Lincoln will be made the hub of a high tension electrical transmission system extending into Missouri and Iowa by the erection before December 1 of Nebraska's first 66 000 volt line from Lincoln to Plattsmouth a distance of about 60 miles at a cost of about a half million dollars J B Hill vice president and general manager of the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light company announced today

Contracts for all material have been let and construction work will begin in a few days upon approval by the railway commission of the route which will probably touch Havelock Waverly and Greenwood The Nebraska Gas & Electric Light company which with the Lincoln company is a subsidiary of the Continental with headquarters at Cleveland is building the lines and the company will do its own construction work

A contract for the Omaha plant to supply the Missouri and Iowa territory has expired and the Lincoln plant is taking over the work Mr Hill said

A Network of Lines

The proposed line will make Lincoln virtually the center of a network of transmission lines extending into Marysville Mo Clarinda Red Oak and Missouri Valley Ia, and into Norfolk York and Beatrice Nebraska at all of which there are steam plants About a half million people are served by this system Mr Hill estimated The system also ties into lines west through Grand Island to Boelus from which service might be secured in the event of a breakdown A line through the northern part of the state now extends from Oakdale and Neligh through Tekamah and into Iowa From Norfolk the network runs south through Aurora east to York south to Strang east to Dewitt and southeast through Beatrice

Shipments of coal into Lincoln will be greatly increased by this tieing in of the Nebraska properties of the company with those in Missouri and Iowa Mr Hill said with a possible influence on freight rates

Wells May Fail

Surrounded by a salt basin there is an imminent possibility that the Lincoln wells may go salt at any time Mr Hill explained In such an event it would be impossible to operate any plant in Lincoln because the salt water would eat boiler tubes away It might be possible to ship drinking water in but never enough to run industrial plants

Service would be available to Lincoln for domestic use in four hours time from the plants east and west if such a breakdown should ever occur Mr Hill pointed out In less than a week a connection could be made into Omaha and all the power needed for industrial plants in Lincoln would be available

A line may be built north from Kansas City into the system either in northwestern Missouri or south eastern Nebraska at some future date to make Kansas City and Lincoln the distributing centers of two inter-connected networks of transmission lines Mr Hill said

west of the city There is 225 acres of this divided into tracts of 35 or 40 acres each The corn now stands between 5 and 6 feet high with tassels showing on the stalks and ears beginning to form It is an excellent stand and will make 50 or 60 bushels per acre if the rest of the season is half way favorable

From all parts of Nebraska come similar reports of a remarkable growth made by corn during July and prospects of a large crop in the fall Coming on top of an excellent yield of wheat running from 25 to 35 bushels an acre in many places and oats of unusually good quality and yield now almost ready for the harvest this has greatly encouraged farmers and improved the business outlook throughout the state

MARKET QUOTATIONS

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

OMAHA, Neb., July 23.

CATTLE—Receipts, 6,400. There was another moderate run of cattle today but quality of the offerings was rather better than usual, and the market ruled active and steady to 10 to 15c higher, the advance being largely on the strictly choice steers. Best beeves brought $10.00@10.60, the advance for the three days being fully 50 to 60c. Best cows and heifers were strong, while grass cows were dull and weak. Business in feeders was quiet, with prices around steady.

Tuesday's quotations on cattle: Beef steers, $7.50@10.35; beef steers and heifers, $7.25@9.75; cows, $3.75@7.00; heifers, $4.25@8.90; bulls, $4.65@8.00; calves, $5.00@8.50; stockers and feeders, $4.75@6.75. Western cattle: Wyoming—Heifers, $4.00; stockers, $5.00; feeders, $6.10. Oklahoma—Cows, $3.00.

Dry lot steers and yearlings $7.50@9.85

HOGS—Receipts, 12,500. Continued strength elsewhere and another light run here, again tended to send prices to a higher level. Shipper trade was active at fully 25 to 40c advance, while the packer market was slow, at moderate upturns. Bulk, $8.10@8.75; top, $8.85.

Bulk of sales, $8.00@8.75.

Wednesday's Representative Sales.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 23.

Improved steel trade reports, rising commodity prices and cheap money combined to lift stock prices higher today. Public utility issues gained 1 to 8 points, shared in the advance with rails, motor accessory and food issues, but early gains were reduced in the late trading. Sales approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Conflicting price movements marked the opening of today's stock market, with leading steel issues manifesting heaviness on the trade commission's order directing abandonment of the cost-plus system. United States Steel dropped to 101¼.

New 1924 high records were established by Union Pacific, Great Northern pfd., Northern Pacific, Illinois Central, Omaha and Union Tank Car. A 2-point rise in Union Pacific carried that stock to 142.

Foreign exchanges opened steady.

The continued flow of buying orders led to short covering which pushed prices up further. Improved demand for steel from selling centers, reported by the weekly trade reviews, outweighed the adverse "Pittsburgh plus" decision as the market factor and the steel shares threw off their early heavines. ¼

¼ Call Money opened at 2 per cent.

With business reports becoming more favorable and money abundant, the demand for stocks was unabated during the afternoon, although the rise proceeded in a more moderate fashion. The market for public utility shares was much better.

The close was irregular. Various rails and specialties fell back in the late trading under realizing sales and pressure from bear operators.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 23.

WHEAT—Wheat quickly advanced in pricet today after a wavering start. The upturn was due chiefly to active buying based on announcement that a complete survey of crop conditions in Alberta indicated only 40,000,000 bushels yield this season as against 166,000,000 bushels last year. Other estimates suggested that the Canadian northwest as a whole would produce less than half the 1923 total. Opening prices, which ranged from 1c decline to 1c advance, with September $1.23@1.23¼ and December $1.25½@1.26⅛, were followed by gains all around.

CORN—Corn advanced with wheat. Besides, country offerings were reported to have been sharply curtailed. After opening ⅛ to 1c down, December 89¼@89¾c, the market rose to well above yesterday's finish.

Subsequently black rust reports from Manitoba brought about an excited further advance. Although price records for the season were broken and the upturn from the day's bottom figures amounted to 8c, buying on the advance was of huge proportions. The close was wild, 6⅛ to 7¼c net higher, September, $1.30@1.30⅝ and December, $1.32⅝@1.32⅞.

Corn responded to the late advance of wheat and closed strong, 2¼ to 4¼c net higher; December, 92½@92⅝c.

OATS—Oats rallied, influenced by the actions of other cereals. Starting at ½c off to ¼c off, September 44⅞@45c, the market soon hardened.

PROVISIONS—Provisions were strong owing to higher quotations in hogs.

GAVE FIGURES TO RAILROADS FIRST

Roads Contest Assessments and Demand Higher Valuations of Farms.

Twenty-one county clerks and registers of deeds in Nebraska furnished tax data to the railroad companies this year, for use by the companies in contesting assessments and demanding that farm land valuations be raised, without sending the same information to the state tax commissioner or the state board of equalization.

This is one of the facts brought out Wednesday forenoon in the hearing before the state board of equalization on both railroad and farm land assessments. It was testified to by R. D. Pollard, tax agent for the Burlington, who presented statistical tables showing assessed values of land in nearly all counties of Nebraska, with a comparison of sales values as shown by recorded conveyances in each.

Mr. Pollard had reports from thirteen registers of deeds and twenty-eight county clerks, as well as some from deputy county clerks or office assistants. It was inferred that all of the persons furnishing such data were paid by the railroads for their services. In a number of counties the figures were obtained from real estate abstracters, while the railroads used their own employes in eight counties.

At the request of Governor Bryan, chairman of the state board, Mr. Pollard read into the record the names of all those who supplied the carriers with the information being used by them in challenging their own assessments and asking to have farm values boosted for taxation.

Roads Make Joint Showing.

All of the seven principal railroads operating in Nebraska, having a considerable mileage of tracks within the state, were represented by counsel at the hearing. They submitted their case jointly through the Burlington tax agent's testimony and exhibits, under questioning by Byron Clark, attorney for the same road.

One set of figures showed mortgages recorded in 87 counties during the tax year from April 1, 1923, to the same date of 1924. The assessed values of the lands covered were given for 1921, 1922, and 1924, showing some instances a decrease and in others an increase. These were compared with valuations placed upon the lands by the owners when applying for loans, and the sums at which they were appraised by the mortgages.

The ratio of assessed valuation to loan values was said to average from 39.9 to 55.6 per cent.

In the same counties, the ratio of assessment to sales values of lands transferred ranged from 34.54 to 61.1 per cent.

Claim Lands Assessed Too Low.

It was contended generally by the railroads that their property is assessed for its full value, or more, while farm lands are listed for taxes on a basis of not more than 58 per cent of their real worth.

The state board heard the railroads first, giving county clerks, assessors, attornsq, commissioners and supervisors who were present a chance to hear what they had to offer and reply thereto. At noon, the carriers had not yet finished their presentation.

Among the counties represented at the hearing were Buffalo, Burt, Clay, Cuming, Custer, Dakota, Dawes, Dodge, Dundy, Greeley, Hall, Holt, Hookr, Lancaster, Sherman and Washington.

Cuming county sent six of its supervisors—Charles Meyer, Howard Nellor, J. H. Russman, George C. Weborg, William Dill, and F. F. Wortman—together with County Clerk Rudolph Brazda and County Attorney R. R. Moodie.

County Assessor T. T. Plummer and County Attorney Herbert H. Rhodes were on hand for Burt county. J. A. Welton, county assessor, was present for Dodge.

LINCOLN WILL BE HUB OF NETWORK OF POWER LINES

Nebraska Electric Company Will Extend System Into Other States

Lincoln will be made the hub of a high tension electrical transmission system extending into Missouri and Iowa by the erection before December 1 of Nebraska's first 66,000 volt line from Lincoln to Plattsmouth, a distance of about 60 miles, at a cost of about a half million dollars, J. B. Hill, vice president and general manager of the Lincoln Gas & Electric Light company announced today.

Contracts for all material have been let and construction work will begin in a few days upon approval by the railway commission of the route, which will probably touch Havelock, Waverly and Greenwood. The Nebraska Gas & Electric Light company, which with the Lincoln company is a subsidiary of the Continental, with headquarters at Cleveland, is building the lines, and the company will do its own construction work.

A contract for the Omaha plant to supply the Missouri and Iowa territory has expired and the Lincoln plant is taking over the work, Mr. Hill said.

A Network of Lines.

The proposed line will make Lincoln virtually the senter of a network of transmission lines extending into Marysville, Mo., Clarinda, Red Oak, and Missouri Valley, Ia., and into Norfolk, York and Beatrice, Nebraska, at all of which there are steam plants. About a half million people are served by this system, Mr. Hill estimated. The system also ties into lines west through Grand Island to Boelus, from which service might be secured in the event of a breakdown. A line through the northern part of the state now extends from Oakdale and Neligh through Tekamah and into Iowa. From Norfolk the network runs south through Aurora, east to York, south to Strang, east to Dewitt, and southeast through Beatrice.

Shipments of coal into Lincoln will be greatly increased by this tieing in of the Nebraska properties of the company with those in Missouri and Iowa, Mr. Hill said, with a possible influence on freight rates.

Wells May Fail.

Surrounded by a salt basin, there is an imminent possibility that the Lincoln wells may go salt at any time, Mr. Hill explained. In such an event it would be impossible to operate any plant in Lincoln because the salt water would eat boiler tubes away. It might be possible to ship drinking water in, but never enough to run industrial plants.

Service would be available to Lincoln for domestic use in four hours time from the plants east and west if such a breakdown should ever occur, Mr. Hill pointed out. In less than a week a connection could be made into Omaha and all the power needed for industrial plants in Lincoln would be available.

A line may be built north from Kansas City into the system, either in northwestern Missouri or southeastern Nebraska, at some future date, to make Kansas City and Lincoln the distributing centers of two inter-connected networks of transmission lines, Mr. Hill said.

Deaths

Byron Read, 71 years old, of Plattsmouth, Neb., died in Lincoln at 8:20 p. m. Tuesday. He leaves his wife, Emma, and a son, Dewey, of Plattsmouth, and a sister, Mrs. F. F. Young of University Place. The body is being held at Morey's funeral home awaiting the arrival of relatives.

The body of Edgar Hinsley arrived in Lincoln Wednesday. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m., Thursday at Henry Brown's chapel with Rev. C. M. Shepherd in charge. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Ralph Mericle, 26 years old, died Wednesday at 3:20 a. m. at a local hospital from injuries received when he fell beneath a freight train in the Burlington yards Tuesday evening at about 10:30. His home was at 746 B street. He leaves his wife and two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mericle, three sisters, Mrs. Herman Bottorff of Lincoln and Miss Cecilia and Miss Dorothy living at home, and three brothers, Dean of Bassett, Neb., and Clyde and Harold of Lincoln. The body is being held at Hodgman's funeral parlors.

The body of Miss Clara Rush of Shelton, Neb., was taken to Shelton for funeral and burial there.

Funeral services for Mrs. Clara Jane Hinds were held at the home of her daughter, 1712 L street, University Place, at 3 p. m. Wednesday. The body will be taken to David City at 7 a. m. Thursday. Further services will be held in the Christian church there at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be at David City.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy A. Wood were held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Perla M. Beck, 832 Garfield street, Rev. W. T. Elmore in charge. Burial was in Wyuka.

The body of Demaris A. Vincent, widow of the late Cullen J. Vincent, who died at her home in Alvo, Neb., at 11 p. m. Monday, is being held at Castle, Roper and Matthews' pending arrival of relatives from Colorado Springs, Colo. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church of Alvo and she will be buried beside her husband in the Alvo cemetery.

Simon Mook died at the home of his brother, D. J. Mook, 3105 U street, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. Besides his brother J. D. Mook he leaves another brother, C. W. Mook, also of Lincoln. His wife died a year ago. The body is being held at Castle, Roper and Mathteews'. Funeral services will be held at the home of D. J. Mook at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mrs. Christina Elizabeth Curran, wife of Raymond L. Curran, 745 South Twenty-eighth street, died Tuesday noon. She leaves her husband, her mother, and an infant son. The body is being held at Castle, Roper and Matthews' and will be taken to urr Oak, Kan., for burial.

Funeral services for Bion Franklin Cole, who died July 22 at his home, will be held Thursday at St. George Episcopal church in Kansas City, Mo. He leaves one son, Holland Cole, of Omaha. Mr. Cole was manager of the Western Newspaper union for many years and later was engaged in newspaper work in Oklahoma City.

Fight Bulletins

Blow by blow returns of the Tunney-Carpentier heavyweight fight Thursday night will be megaphoned from the M street side of The Star building. There will be several preliminaries and the main bout will probably begin about 7:30 p. m. Lincoln time. Everybody is invited to hear the reports.

west of the city. There is 225 acres of this, divided into tracts of 35 or 40 acres each. The corn now stands between 5 and 6 feet high, with tassels showing on the stalks and ears beginning to form. It is an excellent stand and will make 50 or 60 bushels per acre if the rest of the season is half way favorable.

From all parts of Nebraska come similar reports of a remarkable growth made by corn during July and prospects of a large crop in the fall. Coming on top of an excellent yield of wheat, running from 25 to 35 bushels an acre in many places, and oats of unusually good quality and yield now almost ready for the harvest, this has greatly encouraged farmers and improved the business outlook throughout the state.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Light rain has fallen in the Canadian northwest, Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota, and a storm area now passing down the St. Lawrence valley has caused rain in the New England and middle Atlantic states. Elsewhere the weather is generally fair under the influence of areas of high pressure centered over the Ohio valley and the Pacific northwest. Warm weather prevails in the Mississippi Ohio, and lower Missouri valleys and the lake region, and cool weather in the Upper Missouri valley and the plains and mountain states.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

People of this date are usually ambitious and desirous of occupying the best places obtainable. A few of them are willing to work for such a distinction, but the majority rely upon their wits to carry them through.

The governing sign of this date comes at the cusp of Cancer and Leo and this means that the utmost care should be given to children born on this date. In every way possible the attention of the young of this date should be turned to the attainment of a meek and quiet spirit. It is an especially good plan to have regular times for these [illegible] perfectly [illegible]

These children are sympathetic and loving with the sick and suffering and will do everything in their power to help and cheer them.

Life without The Star Want Ads would indeed be dreary [illegible] made them a daily habit [illegible] has been impossible [illegible] to do without them; if you have not, then do so at once.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

People of this date are usually ambitious and desirous of occupying the best places obtainable. A few of them are willing to work for such a distinction, but the majority rely upon their wits to carry them through.

The governing sign of this date comes on the cusp of Cancer and Leo, and this means that the utmost care should be given to children born on this date. In every way possible the attention of the young of this date should be turned to the attainment of a meek and quiet spirit. It is an especially good plan to have regular times for these little ones to sit perfectly still and perfectly silent.

These children are sympathetic and loving with the sick and suffering, and will do everything in their power to help and cheer them.

Life, without The Star Want Ads would indeed be difficult. If you have already made them a daily habit, you will realize how utterly impossible it would be to do without them; if you have not, then do so at once.

Slovenly Speech

Dear Minerva My son of twelve distresses us exceedingly with his slovenly habits of mind and body Most of all it worries us the way in which he slops over his talking He seems just too lazy to take the trouble What can we do? A Mother

A. It seems to ... that a child who cannot take the trouble to make him self understood when he is perfectly capable of doing so should be given a little treatment of letting-alone A boy above all persons loves an audience And I have a notion that if you simply refuse to try to understand him when he fails to try to make himself understood that he will mend his ways and make a greater effort toward clear speaking

I have a notion that if a hungry boy who asked for bread in such a mumble that one had to guess by his gesture and expression whether he meant bread or pickles was ignored completely until he spoke clearly that his enunciation would improve greatly My acquaintance with boys gives me that impression

I believe if the boy wanted a new ball and bat and asked for them in such a slovenly manner that his father was unable to understand that he would hasten to speak in clarion tones next time I believe so

When he is brimful of the story of how he could beat any kid in his gang at this or that sport and he talks as if his mouth were filled with mush it would surprise and annoy him greatly if the audience turned him off and proceeded to other and more interesting entertainment The next hearing he got would be likely to tempt him to try to hold his audience It might He loves to have an audience

If however a shortage of supplies a chilling reception and general displeasure fail to make the necessary impression try silencing him for an hour Tell him you have no desire to hear him talk so unintelligibly and demand silence and enforce the command

It is not necessary that a child be forced to speak in a pedantic manner This is not even desirable But he should certainly be made to speak so he can be understood

Speech is of the greatest importance for with his tongue he tells his story and whether the world is to listen or not depends upon how he tells it It is wrong to let slovenly speech habits slip by with a child What we learn we never forget Every inflection every trick of speech that is taken on then stays with the speaker until the day of his death The stress of the old habit is often impossible to overcome

Waits For No Man

Dear Minerva I have just finished reading a letter in your Mail from Lonesome and Broken hearted Wife also your answer and I cannot refrain from giving my opinion I think your answer is away off It shows you have never been in that poor wife s place or you could not answer it as you did I know for I have been there myself

If you care for a man as a wife should you simply cannot put your mind on church and clubs and such things and not get lonely Think of the long evenings at home alone and the vacant place at the table and then talk of church and clubs

Now to the lonely wife I surely get a hobby and it would be a hubby that cared a little more for my company than yours does for you If he thinks more of his other relatives than for you let him go and say Joy go with you but never come back to mar my life again'

Now this might sound rather rash but why should a lonely wife hang on to a man that does not care for ... not treat her so

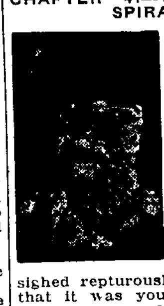

Catch me any old time letting a man go and come at will and be always at home looking and longing for him to come And then meet him with a kiss and a smile of welcome Oh no I guess not

Now I suppose I will get a lecture for this if it is printed but let it come I will be waiting for the lecture if I won t wait for any man Just Another Disgusted

CHAPTER 41—THE GAY CONSPIRATORS

It may not be the most luxurious home in all New York Suzanne chuckled as she rushed across the tiny living room and flung open a door revealing a gas stove and some cupboards but I think we can make it livable

Oh and it will be all ours Dick s and mine Lolita sighed repturously And to think that it was your suggestion You must understand that I appreciate all you have done for me—you made me so welcome in your home but you were right when you said that there was nothing else meant so much to a young couple as having a place of their very own

Suzanne turned and started busily untying the many bundles they had brought with them stopping only when Lolita rushing around and peeking into closets and out of windows insisted that she should come and take a look

Even the rasping noise of a dumb waiter sounds like beautiful music Lolita exclaimed clasping her hands in delight

And washing swinging in the wind looks like gigantic and beautiful blossoms when you see it from your own windows I suppose laughed Suzanne striding off toward the bath room with a mop and pail

By the time Dick is well enough to climb four flights and we tell him that thanks to you there is a home for him we ll have everything done Floors scrubbed chairs painted like new and I may even have finished my pride and joy—curtains of bargain cretonne!

Lolita pulled out a big package and started unwrapping it

Oh you ll ruin your hands sewing on that stuff Suzanne exclaimed Don t do it Let me buy you some curtains all made

I guess Lady Bountiful if you can scrub floors for my nice young husband the least I can do is sacrifice one pair of hands to the making of curtains They never were any use to me before except to swing up stage just before I said my one line Here comes the famous Mr Pennington now anyway

There was a joyous note in Lolita s voice that Suzanne had never heard before How happy everything would be she mused if they could just escape Mrs Vale and all their worries as easily as they had been slipping away recent afternoons to the little apartment they had found and rented

Everything complete Lolita ejaculated dancing across the room and laughingly straightening a rusty hook on the closet door even to can openers and dish mops She surveyed the array of utensils from the ten cent store proudly while Suzanne tried desperately to manipulate the mop as deftly as she had seen he publishers do it

'What would Geoff say if he knew?' Suzanne in her lighthearted mood found herself thinking aloud a habit she had almost lost with the taciturn Geoff

And what would Dick say—

He would say a voice hailed them from the door that he was never more surprised in his life nor more out of breath

He sunk on a nearby chair and smiled

I ve known for days that you two were up to something You ve acted just like conspirators in a comic opera always smiling significantly at each other and whispering in corners Finally today my curiosity got the better of me and I followed you here in a taxi This is a big surprise—but wait I ve a surprise for you too Tomorrow—Too Good To Be-True

Hay Demand Quiet But Is Sufficient To Absorb Supply

The hay market continued quiet to draggy for the week ending July 19 states the United States department of agriculture in its weekly market review made public here today

"The movement of new hay is increasing and prices in the south southwest and part of the central west are on a new crop basis says the report The demand is quiet although sufficient to absorb current receipts'

The report continues as follows

The price of No 1 timothy averages $2 to $2 50 per ton higher than at the beginning of the new crop movement in 1923 and 1922 while No 1 alfalfa is on practically the same price level as 1923 but is about $2 per ton higher than in 1922 and prairie runs $1 to $1 50 lower than in those years

The July 1 forecast of the department of agriculture indicated a total tame hay crop of 90 130 000 tons 1-000 000 tons more than the 1923 production and 4 300 000 tons more than the amount harvested in the years 1918 22 Receipts at twelve markets for the first full week in July ran practically the same as for the same period last year but during the first six months of 1924 these markets absorbed 10 per cent more hay than for the same period in 1923

Top grades of timothy sold readily but receipts of poor and weedy hay were in excess of the demand and were hard to move Some accumulation of low grades reported in New York, Boston and Cincinnati eastern markets are still on old crop basis Some new timothy moved to the south from Ohio Illinois, and Kansas City

'Alfalfa remained steady The demand from the south fell off slightly and the mills were the best buyers during the week Shipping demand was for the best grades only There was some local demand for brown feeding hay at Kansas City but dairies were practically out of the market.

'The prairie market remained firm with limited receipts Stockyards local retailers and transfer companies were in the market at Kansas City and more hay could have been sold at prevailing prices

PITTSBURGH PLUS MUST BE STOPPED

Steel Corporation Price System Held Illegal By Trade Commission.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON July 23—The federal trade commission yesterday ordered the United States Steel corporation to abandon the Pittsburgh plus system of determining the price of steel

The commission held it to be an unfair ... of competition the system by which the corporation and its subsidiaries quote prices on rolled steel products manufactured by and shipped from their plants outside Pittsburgh at a Pittsburgh base price plus an amount equivalent to what the freight charges would be from that city The practice thus was found to be a violation of the federal trade commission act and further to constitute a means of price discrimination in violation of the Clayton act

The commission held specifically that the system is contrary to the public interest but based on the law of supply and demand is a price fixing system succeeding the old steel pools Gary dinners and other methods an dthat it is made possible by the alleged domination of the steel industry by the United States Steel corporation

It also held that the Pittsburgh plus system leseens and eliminates competition retards business in all steel centers except Pittsburgh and adds greatly to the cost of steel products It adds $30 000 000 a year to the cost of steel to farmers in eleven western states the commission declared

An athletic trim Keds model

A Keds shoe specially designed for children

Easier on their feet . . and easier on your pocketbook!

IDEAL for every kind of game—light and cool with a special Feltex inner sole that protects feet from warm pavements—

No wonder millions of boys and girls want Keds in vacation time!

The difference is that Keds are built not only for comfort but are especially constructed to stand the hardest kind of everyday vacation wear.

Keds are made with an unusually tough, high-quality rubber grown on our own plantations in Sumatra. Their canvas uppers are specially selected for strength and are completely reinforced. Their long wearing quality makes Keds the most economical summer footwear you can buy.

Keds are a complete line of canvas rubber-soled shoes, varying in price according to grade, size and style, from $1 25 to $4.50.

Keds are made only by the United States Rubber Company. And every Keds shoe has the name Keds on it. It will pay you to look for the name.

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

Slovenly Speech.

Dear Minerva: My son of twelve distresses us exceedingly with his slovenly habits of mind and body. Most of all it worries us the way in which he slops over his talking. He seems just too lazy to take the trouble. What can we do? A Mother.

A. It seems to me that a child who cannot take the trouble to make himself understood when he is perfectly capable of doing so should be given a little treatment of letting-alone. A boy above all persons loves an audience. And I have a notion that if you simply refuse to try to understand him when he fails to try to make himself understood that he will mend his ways and make a greater effort toward clear speaking.

I have a notion that if a hungry boy who asked for bread in such a mumble that one had to guess by his gesture and expression whether he meant bread or pickles, was ignored completely until he spoke clearly that his enunciation would improve greatly. My acquaintance with boys gives me that impression.

I believe if the boy wanted a new ball and bat and asked for them in such a slovenly manner that his father was unable to understand that he would hasten to speak in clarion tones next time. I believe so.

When he is brimful of the story of how he could beat any kid in his gang at this or that sport and he talks as if his mouth were filled with mush, it would surprise and annoy him greatly if the audience turned him off and proceeded to other and more interesting entertainment. The next hearing he got would be likely to tempt him to try to hold his audience. It might. He loves to have an audience.

If however a shortage of supplies, a chilling reception, and general displeasure fail to make the necessary impression try silencing him for an hour. Tell him you have no desire to hear him talk so unintelligibly, and demand silence and enforce the command.

It is not necessary that a child be forced to speak in a pedanic manner. This is not even desirable. But he should certainy be made to speak so he can be understood.

Speech is of the greatest importance, for with his tongue he tells his story and whether the world is to listen or not depends upon how he tells it. It is wrong to let slovenly speech habits slip by with a child. What we learn we never forget. Every inflection, every trick of speech that is taken on then stays with the speaker until the day of his death. The stress of the old habit is often impossible to overcome.

Waits For No Man.

Dear Minerva: I have just finished reading a letter in your Mail from "Lonesome and Broken-hearted Wife," also your answer and I cannot refrain from giving my opinion. I think your answer is away off. It shows you have never been in that poor wife's place or you could not answer it as you did. I know for I have been there myself.

If you care for a man as a wife should you simply cannot put your mind on church and clubs and such things and not get lonely. Think of the long evenings at home alone and the vacant place at the table and then talk of church and clubs.

Now to the lonely wife. I surely get a hobby and it would be a "hubby" that cared a little more for my company than yours does for you. If he thinks more of his other relatives than for you let him go and say "Joy go with you but never come back to mar my life again."

Now this might sound rather rash but why should a lonely wife hang on to a man that does not care for her and I say he does not or he would not treat her so.

Catch me any old time letting a man go and come at will and be always at home looking and longing for him to come. And then meet him with a kiss and a smile of welcome. Oh no I guess not.

Now I suppose I will get a lecture for this if it is printed but let it come. I will be waiting for the lecture, if I won't wait for any man. Just Another Disgusted.

A Plea to Men

Please keep your hair

Hay Demand Quiet But Is Sufficient To Absorb Supply

The hay market continued quiet to draggy for the week ending July 19, states the United States department of agriculture in its weekly market review made public here today.

"The movement of new hay is increasing and prices in the south, southwest and part of the central west are on a new crop basis," says the report. "The demand is quiet, although sufficient to absorb current receipts."

The report continues as follows:

"The price of No. 1 timothy averages $2 to $2.50 per ton higher than at the beginning of the new crop movement in 1923 and 1922 while No. 1 alfalfa is on practically the same price level as 1923, but is about $2 per ton higher than in 1922, and prairie runs $1 to $1.50 lower than in those years.

"The July 1 forecast of the department of agriculture indicated a total tame hay crop of 90,100,000 tons, 1,000,000 tons more than the 1923 production and 4,300,000 tons more than the amount harvested in the years 1918-22. Receipts at twelve markets for the first full week in July ran practically the same as for the same period last year, but during the first six months of 1924, these markets absorbed 10 per cent more hay than for the same period in 1923.

"Top grades of timothy sold readily, but receipts of poor and weedy hay were in excess of the demand and were hard to move. Some accumulation of low grades reported in New York, Boston, and Cincinnati, eastern markets are still on old crop basis. Some new timothy moved to the south from Ohio, Illinois, and Kansas City.

"Alfalfa remained steady. The demand from the south fell off slightly and the mills were the best buyers during the week. Shipping demand was for the best grades only. There was some local demand for brown feeding hay at Kansas City, but dairies were practically out of the market.

"The prairie market remained firm with limited receipts, Stockyards, local retailers and transfer companies were in the market at Kansas City and more hay could have been sold at prevailing prices."

Making of Heating Equipment Is Shown In Moving Pictures

The fundamentals of the manufacturing and testing of Ideal boilers and American radiators was shown in motion pictures to the heating and plumbing trades of Lincoln Tuesday evening in the Lincoln hotel. The film was brought to Lincoln by M. B. Shea of the American Radiator company and it showed the processes of manufacture in the company's plants in detail.

About thirty-five city heaters and plumbers, engineers of the state board of control, engineers of the board of education, and professors from the mechanical engineering department of the state university, saw the picture. Mr. Preil of the Lincoln Photo Supply company showed the 5,000 feet of film in five reels.

Thousands of steaming pipes appeared in panoramic views of the manufacturing plants. The Arcola, a radiator-boiler for installation in kitchens of basementless homes, and the Ideal Type A heat machine which the company is featuring in its advertising were also shown in process of being made.

The results of work of the technical and research staffs of the company were emphasized in securing higher working efficiency standerds. At the Buffalo plant alone, 1800 men turn out a half million pounds of radiators a day, it was shown.

Authorities Seeking Masked Acid Thrower

LEBANON JUNCTION, Ky., July 23.—In an effort to learn the identity of the masked acid thrower who seriously burned Mrs. Lillian Woodridge, 44, and her aged mother last evening, in a mysterious attack, peace officers are endeavoring to trace the purchase of the acid used.

The assailant, dressed in woman's clothing, entered the yard at dark, stepped to the porch, where Mrs. Woodridge, livorced wife of Joseph Woodridge, traveling salesman, and her mother sat, and threw the acid from a quart can.

One Friend Tells Another

The fame of a successful remedy is often spread far and wide by women telling one another of its merits, as is evidenced by a letter written by Mrs. Delbert Bush of Masena, N. Y. She writes: "I was in such a bad condition I could hardly walk, a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with excellent results advised me to try it. It has given me back my health and I cannot praise it enough." There are women everywhere who have been benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and gladly tell their friends and neighbors about it. —Advertisement.

PITTSBURGH PLUS MUST BE STOPPED

Steel Corporation Price System Held Illegal By Trade Commission.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, July 23—The federal trade commission yesterday ordered the United States Steel corporation to abandon the Pittsburgh plus system of determining the price of steel.

The commission held it to be an unfair method of competition, the system by which the corporation and its subsidiaries quote prices on rolled steel products manufactured by and shipped from their plants outside Pittsburgh at a Pittsburgh base price plus an amount equivalent to what the freight charges would be from that city. The practice thus was found to be a violation of the federal trade commission act, and further to constitute a means of price discrimination in violation of the Clayton act.

The commission held specifically that the system is contrary to the public interest, but based on the law of supply and demand, is a price fixing system succeeding the old steel "pools," "Gary dinners," and other methods, an dthat it is made possible by the alleged domination of the steel industry by the United States Steel corporation.

It also held that the Pittsburgh plus system leseens and eliminates competition, retards business in all steel centers except Pittsburgh, and adds greatly to the cost of steel products. It adds $30,000,000 a year to the cost of steel to farmers in eleven western states, the commission declared.

Man Reported Dead Is Very Much Alive

TACOMA, Wash., July 23.—W. S. Smith of Tacoma, reported to have been killed in Cedar Rapids, Ia., by lighting, is alive and well in Tacoma, he reported after reading the story of his supposed demise in local newspapers.

Smith blamed the theft of a Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks membership card from his room three weeks ago for the report of his death.

"GROWING" FOOD

EVERY loaf of our bread contains 100% nourishment. It is just the food that Baby will thrive on—and every bit of it gives health and strength.

It should be substituted for the rich heavy foods that are not easily digested—and it is obvious that if this bread is healthy for Baby to eat, it is the logical food for grown ups too.

An athletic-trim Keds model

A Keds shoe specially designed for children

Easier on their feet . . and easier on your pocketbook!

IDEAL for every kind of game—light and cool with a special Feltex inner sole that protects feet from warm pavements—

No wonder millions of boys and girls want Keds in vacation time!

Naturally, too, millions of mothers and fathers try to supply that want. Unfortunately, however, some of them get just "canvas rubber-soled shoes"—shoes that may look like Keds but are not really Keds.

The difference is that Keds are built not only for comfort but are especially constructed to stand the hardest kind of everyday vacation wear.

Keds are made with an unusually tough, high-quality rubber grown on our own plantations in Sumatra. Their canvas uppers are specially selected for strength and are completely reinforced. Their long wearing quality makes Keds the most economical summer footwear you can buy.

Keds are a complete line of canvas rubber-soled shoes, varying in price according to grade, size and style, from $1.25 to $4.50.

Keds are made only by the United States Rubber Company. And every Keds shoe has the name Keds on it. It will pay you to look for the name.
